Cigarette Tax Hike Proposed To Aid Education

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A three-cent "sin tax" on cigarettes for the benefit of education was proposed in the Ohio Senate Thursday.

The bill, sponsored by Sen. John H. Weeks, R-25 Lakewood, would boost the tax from seven to 10 cents per pack.

"If you can put a sin tax on liquor, then you can put a sin tax on cigarettes," Weeks said. "Everybody is desperately aware of the needs for education."

House Speaker Charles F. Kurfess, R - 4 Perrysburg, has proposed a 5 per cent liquor price markup to provide an estimated $35 million for education over the next two years.

Weeks said his bill would bring in approximately $66 million over the same period. The bill does not have administration backing.

The House approved 71-9 to put on the Nov. 4 ballot the question of permitting jail inmates serving a year or less to hold outside jobs.

Rep. Jim Thorpe, R-90 Alliance, sponsor of the measure, said it was a companion piece of legislation to an identical House bill passed Monday night.

A statewide vote would eliminate any doubt as to whether the bill is constitutional Thorpe said.

The 1913 constitution has a provision, Thorpe said, aimed at keeping sheriffs from selling prison labor to farmers.

"There was no such thing as work release in those days," Thorpe said.

A bill to license operators of the state's 1,005 nursing homes was introduced in the Senate by Stanley J. Aronoff, R-8 Cincinnati.

Aronoff said the bill is necessary to make nursing homes eligible for Medicaid funds after July 1, 1970.

The Senate sent to the House by 25-0 votes two air pollution control bills.

One would allow smokestacks that reduce the concentration of air pollution substances at ground level to be included among facilities eligible for tax exemptions.

It also authorizes transfer of the tax exemption if the industry involved is sold. The second bill authorizes the transfer of water pollution exemptions under a sale.

The House referred back to committee for additional study a bill to increase the number of electors who must sign local option election petitions.

Attempt To Replace British Leader Seen

Report Says Ouster Plot Imminent

Some Of Wilson's Own Cabinet Aides Said Leading Bid

LONDON (AP) — Political sources say an attempt from within his own Labor party to replace Prime Minister Harold Wilson may be imminent.

Reports of a plot against Wilson by some of his former Cabinet ministers and other backbench MPs are circulating in the lobbies of the House of Commons and appeared today on front pages of most major newspapers.

One report said the rebels were discussing whether to bring a vote of no confidence against the prime minister at an early meeting of the Labor party members in Commons.

The immediate sore point is Wilson's insistence on pushing through Parliament this summer laws to curb the wildcat strikes crippling British exports. The party's traditional cornerstone of political support the trade union movement, is fighting the legislation tooth and nail.

In Wilson's nearly five years in office plots to replace him have often been reported but never have developed into a real threat. Political informants said the situation appeared different this time on at least three counts:

1. Criticism of Wilson and his antistrike bills is more open in Parliamentary lobbies than on earlier occasions and no longer emanates mainly from factions backing a potential rival.

2. The criticism is more wide-

23 Copters, 10 Planes Lost By U.S. In War Last Week

SAIGON (AP) — The U.S. Command announced today that 23 helicopters and 10 fixed-wing planes were lost in the Vietnam war during the past week. It was one of the more expensive weeks for America's aerial forces.

Most of the helicopters were shot down, and the others were lost in collisions or enemy attacks on U.S. bases, headquarters said.

At least two of the planes were fighter-bombers reported shot down earlier. The command gave no details about the other losses.

The report said a total of 2,585 U.S. helicopters and 2,681 planes now have been lost in the war.

A U.S. spokesman also announced that 38,000 Viet Cong and North Vietnamese killed since the Viet Cong spring offensive started Feb. 23, and American and South Vietnamese forces since the first of the year have captured:

—2,500 rockets and 110,000 mortar rounds, "more than the enemy has fired countrywide in the same period."

—2,500 tons of rice, enough to feed 50 battalions of 500 men each for four months.

—20,000 individual weapons and 3,000 crew-served weapons.

Although the U.S. Command did not say the enemy offensive was over, the spokesman said the heavy losses had forced the enemy to reduce his offensive operations.

"We estimate that the enemy's activities have decreased because he did not have any other choice," the spokesman said. "The primary reason for this, as you may have noted in the weekly statistical summaries, is that the enemy has suffered about 38,000 killed since Feb. 23.

"These are serious losses which exceed his losses during the same time frame following initiation of his offensives in

Nixon Aides Face Questioning

Senate Seeks Explanation In Delaying Hunger Fight

WASHINGTON (AP) — Top Nixon administration officials have been asked by a special Senate committee to explain an alleged White House decision against an immediate broad attacks on hunger in the nation.

Sen. George S. McGovern, D-S.D., chairman of the hunger committee, said Thursday invitations to appear before the panel next week went to Clifford M. Hardin, secretary of agriculture; Robert H. Finch, secretary of health, education and welfare, and Budget Director Robert P. Mayo.

Announcement of the action came shortly after the committee's ranking Republican, Sen. Jacob K. Javits, urged the GOP administration to increase the fight against hunger this year.

The New York senator cited "authoritative reports that the administration does not propose to increase materially the federal food assistance program to the nation's poor beyond the present level of slightly more than $1.5 billion.

"This is a deeply disturbing development if indeed such a decision has been made by the White House," Javits added.

City Officers Name Man In Stickup Case

James C. Jones, 47, a former Jefferson County resident, was named Thursday afternoon by East Liverpool police as one of two suspects in a robbery Dec. 30 at the Western Union office on Market St. that netted $200 in cash and about a dozen money orders.

Det. Capt. Kenneth Mooney said a fugitive warrant was forwarded to the Parkersburg (W.Va.) police department, which took Jones into custody on a larceny charge. Prosecuting Atty. J. Warren Bettis said his office will file extradition proceedings if Jones does not waive legal technicalities for return to Ohio, Mooney said.

The officer said Jones' last known address was in Steubenville. Mooney said the East Liverpool detective bureau learned of Jones' arrest through the Jefferson County sheriff's office, which knew the former Steubenville man was wanted here in the Western Union holdup.

Mooney said Jones' accomplice in the robbery was a juvenile who still is at large, so far as the local department knows.

The detective bureau received information more than two months ago that pointed to Jones as one of the suspects in the robbery. He could not be located in the district at the time, but all nearby law enforcement agencies were alerted.

Two entered the telegraph office at 1:09 p.m. the afternoon of Dec. 30 and menaced Mrs. Pauline Walton of Glenmoor, the manager. They took the currency and money order forms and then fled in a white auto.

Skirmishes On Lebanon Border

Squad Of Arab Saboteurs Attacks Israeli Army Site

By The Associated Press

A squad of Arab saboteurs from Jordan attacked an Israeli army emplacement today. There were skirmishes on the border of Lebanon and Cairo reported cannonading along the Suez Canal.

A military spokesman in Tel Aviv said two soldiers were killed and three were wounded in the saboteur attack near El Hamma on the Yarmuk River, a tributary of the Jordan southeast of the Sea of Galilee. Two saboteurs also were reported killed.

The spokesman said the Arabs struck with grenades and light arms.

At about the same time, a bomb went off in El Hamma causing serious damage to a building, the spokesman reported.

Farther north, the army announced two Arab saboteurs were killed and an Israeli soldier was wounded in clashes on the Lebanese border.

An army spokesman said in Cairo Israeli forces opened fire on Egyptian positions at El Tina north of El Qantara on the northern reaches of the Suez Canal cease-fire line. Egyptian forces returned the fire and the exchange continued sporadically for 3½ hours, the spokesman added.

Egypt and Israel have swapped new claims and denials but have told Secretary-General U Thant they are trying to limit danger to U.N. observers along the canal. He had protested the exchange of fire across the canal endangered his observers.

President Gamal Abdel Nasser told a May Day rally in Cairo Thursday that Egyptian forces had destroyed 60 per cent of Israel's fortifications along the east bank of the waterway.

Nasser also branded as a failure an Israeli raid Tuesday night on targets about 300 miles south of Cairo. He said warplanes, not commandos as the Israelis said, attempted the attack. He claimed the planes were turned back before they could do any significant damage.

This, said Nasser, demonstrated the improvement in Egypt's defense since last Oct. 31, when Israeli commandos damaged bridges, dams and a power plant in the same area.

Nasser said Egyptian shelling across the canal would continue until all the Israeli bases are destroyed. He hinted Egypt might launch a major attempt to re-

Long GM Strikes Feared

DETROIT (AP) — Union officials said today a series of strikes which have idled more than 50,000 General Motors employes could be long and costly.

A GM spokesman declined to guess how long the walkout might last, saying, "There are too many variables to indicate whether the strike will be long or short."

The strike at facilities in Van Nuys, Calif., Kansas City, Baltimore, Atlanta, North Tarrytown, N.Y., and Janesville, Wis., began Monday.

That was the deadline set by the United Auto Workers for completion of new local contracts in the wake of the merger last November of Chevrolet and Fisher Body divisions in the six cities.

The union maintained that the merger eliminated jobs in some locations and forced remaining personnel to work faster to meet quotas. There were many other local issues.

In all 28,000 men struck at the six plants. They joined 8,100 UAW members who struck Fisher Body and Chevrolet plants in St. Louis April 10 over work standards.

GM said today that a total of 50,777 were now out of work because of the strikes.

Charles Tyer, president of UAW Local 93 at Kansas City said many rank and file members were probably thinking in terms of a walkout lasting three or four weeks. But he said he wouldn't be surprised to see a shutdown lasting six to eight weeks.

Nearly 15,000 of those out of work were laid off because their plants supplied parts used in assembly of the cars at the struck plants.

The average wage of a GM production worker is $3.50 hourly or about $140 a week before

At Annual Conference

GOP Governors Debate Campus, Safeguard Stand

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — Republican governors debate at their annual conference today what stand to take on campus violence and deployment of the Safeguard missile defense system. They also faced a student demonstration at their gala black tie dinner tonight.

Most of the governors, including their host, Kentucky's Louie B. Nunn, appeared ready to accept local responsibility for controlling student disorders.

"It's our baby," said Gov. Ronald Reagan of California, the conference chairman.

Some governors suggested cutting off federal aid to institutions which condone rioting and students who participate.

But GOP National Chairman Rogers C.B. Morton told a news conference it might be dangerous business for Congress to try to pass any punitive legislation of this sort.

"I am not prepared in my own mind to say whether Congress ought to use this club or not," said Morton, a member of the House from Maryland. "I hope the disorders can be resolved at the basic level of government which is first concerned—the local authorities, the states and the courts."

House Republican Leader Gerald R. Ford of Michigan told the governors today the GOP has blocked a Democratic effort to "strip President Nixon of all but his constitutional functions in foreign and defense matters and stop cold the needed domestic reforms and new direction the new administration is studying and shaping up."

He said the attempt was launched in the defeated Democratic bid to extend the federal aid to education program for five years—putting it out of Nixon's reach during his first term of office.

Ford suggested that if the effort had succeeded, other portions of the Great Society program "would have been put in deep freeze, ready to be revived and expanded in the hoped-for Democratic restoration of 1972."

Police were alerted to cope with a group of students who planned an afternoon rally at the University of Kentucky, followed by a march on a downtown hotel where the conference's formal state dinner is scheduled.

Morton said he thinks Vice President Spiro T. Agnew is making progress establishing communications between the governors and the White House.

But Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller of Arkansas said governors don't want the programs for the poor to be run exclusively from Washington.

"The governors are responsible for and must administrate the programs to meet the needs of the people of their states," he said. "They are in a better position to evaluate the needs and programs that a bureaucracy or even the Congress."

Gov. Harold LeVader of Minnesota said Nixon's actions and statements indicate "progress toward social equality will continue."

Gov. Claude R. Kirk of Florida said he was pleased with Nixon's "commitment to action."

Gov. William Milliken of Michigan said he saw encouraging signs that the problems of the cities, the poor and campus unrest will be tackled speedily.

Gov. Don Samuelson of Idaho expressed the view that Nixon was on the right track in his approach to domestic problems.

Gov. Norbert T. Tieman of Nebraska thought Nixon had proposed some good solutions but said "it remains to be seen whether they will be effective."

Details Of Moore Charge Disclaimed By SRC Officials

HUNTINGTON (AP) — State Road Commission officials here have disclaimed knowledge of a charge leveled by Gov. Arch Moore Jr. that $9,800 in SRC funds allocated for a Cabell County project were diverted to personal services.

Moore told a Wednesday news conference the money was authorized for a resurfacing projects but that it instead "was used for personal services salaries in the county."

Nichols and Ronk Inc. of Huntington submitted a lot bid of $8,920 for repaving .56 miles of U.S. 52 here July, 1967. The bid appears to be the only one in in recent years for a county project near the $9,800 cost cited by the governor.

Firm officials could not be reached Thursday for comment on whether that project ever was completed. SRC officials in Charleston declined to comment on that particular job.

Former Cabll SRC supervisor O. C. Shively served from July 15, 1965 until earlier this year, said he knew nothing about Moore's charges. Shively said his staff never handles large sums of money and that the reported resurfacing project normally would have been processed through the district office and the SRC office in Charleston.

Ted R. Riffle, current Cabell supervisor, also disclaimed knowledge of the incident.

Officers Elected By Little League Unit At Irondale

Officers were elected during the Wednesday meeting of the Community Support League of the Stanton Little Raiders at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Allen of Irondale.

Officers are Earl Allen, president; Charles Waggoner, vice-president; Maureen Tice, secretary, and Pat Lockhart, treasurer.

Final plans for the June 23 Little League trip to a Pittsburgh baseball game were made. After the game the boys will be introduced to the ball players.

Refreshments were served following the monthly raffle won by Pete Cope and Buddy Pruitt.

Arson Suspected In Beaver Blaze

An arson investigation continued today into the destruction by fire of an unoccupied house in the South Side area of Beaver County this morning.

The building, owned by John A. Keifer of Clinton RD 1, was leveled, Hanover Township Police Chief Dale Lance reported.

Lance said a barn on the property was burned a week ago. The South Side Fire Department was summoned to both blazes, but was unable to save the structures.

Chief Lance requested anyone with information about the origin of the blazes to notify him.

spread than before. It is said to include not only the party's dissident left wing, long a nuisance to Wilson, but also some of the center. Varying accounts put Wilson's critics at between 30 and 100 members.

3. For the first time, supporters of various potential successors to Wilson are now prepared to unite behind any one man who appears to have the best chance. Those most prominently mentioned are Home Secretary James Callagahan, a past opponent of the strike control proposals; Defense Secretary Denis Healey and Chancellor of the Exchequer Roy Jenkins.

The strategy of the dissidents is to force a change in the party leadership from within rather than to defeat the government in Commons and force a general election. It is generally acknowledged that in an election now, Labor would lose badly and many of the dissident MPs would lose their seats in Commons.

Wilson has been gambling all along that his unpopular austerity measures will right the economy before April 1971, when he has to call an election. His opponents believe Labor must turn to a new man who can unite the party and the unions.

Miss Logan, who scored a Broadway hit in "Finian's Rainbow" in 1947, died Thursday in Peninsula Hospital.

She had undergone surgery for cancer in 1966.

Man Sentenced To Reformatory In Incest Case

LISBON — Jesse Barber, 23, of Salineville was sentenced Thursday in Common Pleas Court to 1 to 10 years in the Ohio State Reformatory for incest.

A jury convicted Barber Feb. 11. The court committed him subsequently to Lima State Hospital for an examination and report as required by statute in sex cases.

Judge Sharp denied Barber's motion for a new trial Wednesday after finding he is not a mentally ill offender, a mentally deficient offender or a psychopathic offender in the opinion of state hospital psychiatrists at Lima. The report contained a sentence that Barber admitted the offense.

The court went to Salineville Wednesday morning at the request of Defense Counsel William Brown of Lisbon to take a deposition from Mrs. Carrie Colley, 82, at her home on Foundry Hill.

Her statement was to have been the "new evidence" on which the defense based the motion for a new trial. Mrs. Colley testified that Barber's sister, Kathleen, the complaining witness, told her in September she had an argument with her brother but he did not attack her.

Prosecuting Atty. J. Warren Bettis noted that the conversation occurred a full year before the offense for which Barber was tried. To Brown's suggestion the conversation might have taken place last September, Mrs. Colley said it had to have been in 1967 since she was ill last September and in no position to talk to anyone.

Break-In Probed

LISBON — The sheriff's department investigated a break-in Thursday evening at Phillips Christian Church on the Fairview School Rd. south of Salem after Mrs. Anna Windle, who lives nearby, reported a basement window broken. Deputy Richard Koffel found the door into the pastor's study had been pried open.

Restoring Campus Order

Student-sponsored disorders in the field of higher education are thinning the presidential ranks.

The Chronicle of Higher Education reports that some 70 universities and four-year colleges are seeking chief executives.

Student trouble does not bear the full responsibility for the high presidential dropout rate, but it is often the final straw.

PRESIDENTS ARE SUBJECT to criticism from the public, pressure to raise money and abuse from the faculty in addition to the guff from radicals.

Normal retirements and appointments to other jobs account for some of the vacancies that exist today — but not the majority.

Other presidents are letting it be known they no longer wish to endure the mental and physical punishment from students and faculty. Charles G. Dobbins, executive secretary of the American Council on Education, warned last month that the current adversary relationship among students, faculty and administrators could result in a "massive loss of experienced leadership" in higher education.

And so the violence is causing a shakeup as its perpetrators said it would. However, the effect will not be to the liking of campus radicals.

MANY PRESIDENTS who have remained on the job are taking a hard line in dealing with disruptions with full support of the federal government and public opinion.

New men filling the presidential vacancies will be expected to do the same to preserve the university in the face of mob action.

Maintenance of discipline will restore order on chaotic campuses and no time is to be lost in getting at the job.

Beauty Capital

We extend a warm welcome to the 20 young ladies who will visit East Liverpool over the weekend competing for the "Miss Eastern Ohio" title in the Jaycee Pageant.

They not only add grace and charm to our city and provide a pleasant evening's entertainment; they do us the honor of making East Liverpool a one-day beauty capital of the state. Good fortune to each, and may the winner be "Miss Ohio 1969."

Looking For A Home

People everywhere have trouble finding homes and apartments, but leave it up to New Yorkers to get abode hunting down to a fine science.

New York City is in a real housing pinch because little moderate or low-income housing has been built there since 1963 when new building codes were imposed.

Two-thirds of the existing 2.1 million apartments are still under the rent control that was imposed during World War II. The four million New Yorkers who live in them stay put since they have about the only cheap housing in the city.

Naturally there is a mad scramble when a vacancy does occur.

To be first in line, New Yorkers bribe doormen and moving men for tips. A couple of tricks smacks of ghoulishness. They read obituary columns and buy information from hospital interns about death cases.

When all else fails, drastic action is called for —such as a family giving up a beloved pet.

What may be the ultimate sacrifice in the interest of getting an apartment now has been documented — a hippie actually had his hair cut.

Strange people those New Yorkers.

4-Year Term Too Long

We commend Rep. Richard G. Reichel, R-Massillon, for his leadership in the successful floor fight to send back to committee a bill calling for four-year council terms for nonchartered cities.

Rep. Reichel said: "In municipalities, like on the congressional and state representative levels, voters should have the right to express themselves halfway through the mayor's term of office."

In addition, voters should have the right to vote an ineffective councilman out of office after two years.

The four-year term would be more of a protective device for poor councilmen than an aid to better government. Since ours is a representative form of government, a councilman who must seek election every two years will be more responsive to his constituents than one who must seek election every four years.

Rep. Robert E. Levitt, R-Canton, also is opposed to four-year terms for councilmen and can be expected to fight its passage.

Right now the bill is in the hands of the House Judiciary Committee where an amendment is being considered that would provide for a vote of the people in each municipality on the issue.

The General Assembly should reject the bill, but if legislators do approve it, the protective amendment that would let each municipality decide for itself is a must.

SDS Taking On Industry?

It looks like the Students for a Democratic Society (SDS) is moving faster than anticipated in attempting to "radicalize" American workers.

According to a copy of a SDS summer work-in plan published in the Illinois Manufacturers' Association bulletin, students are to use summer jobs to stir up workers to "seek certain social changes."

THE PLAN OFFERS tips on how to look for a job, how to get a position and what to expect on the job.

Helpful hints include:

"If you take an aptitude test, don't show off. On a time test answer about half the questions or they may be suspicious and want to use you in the 'front office'.

"You should be at your first place looking at around 8:30 or 9 and don't go to your last place any later than noon. Otherwise they'll think you never get up till noon.

"Generally, don't wear a suit, but don't dress like a slob or hippy.

"Be straightforward, use simple language and attitude, not $20 words. Don't volunteer information, just answer what is asked."

How to go about cultivating relationships with the workers and planting ideas are detailed. The plan is explicit in referring students to their SDS group for discussion of problems that might arise and for further instructions.

But the SDS apparently isn't waiting until summer to move into the field of labor.

Twice in recent days, SDS members and dissident Negro workers forced a halt in night-shift production at a Ford Motor Co. plant in Mahwah, N.J.

THE LABOR STRIFE is a tipoff on what can be expected from the SDS and should serve as a warning to potential employers.

An observation from E. Edgerton Hart, executive vice president of the Illinois Manufacturers' Association, provides food for thought on the matter:

"It is to be hoped that this SDS program will not prejudice the chances of college students to obtain summer employment in industry since SDS is a very small minority of college students. But employers should be alert to the problems posed by this program and should make plans as to the best manner of handling suspected troublemakers in their plants."

The Policy Of Meddling

Few Americans would endorse the racial practices of Rhodesia or South Africa, but objective analysis will show that the black man's standard of living in those countries is two or three times as high as in any of the so-called developing countries.

In Rhodesia, particularly, the economic status of all its citizens is continuing to rise, and, under its proposed constitution, voting will be on an economic-status basis, without regard to race.

Progress in Rhodesia and South Africa is being made without financial or technical assistance or any other type of aid from the United States. Why then should our government meddle in the internal affairs of these countries?

A visit to Greece confirms the impression that real progress is being made under the regime of premier George Papadopoulos. Instead of riots and chaos, everyone is working, there is little inflation and the average man in the street seems to care little what form of government prevails.

Even more important from the U.S. standpoint, the current Greek regime is violently anti-Communist.

There is little or no censorship in the various periodicals and the country appears to have countered the trend toward communism.

If the United States would build its fences with friendly governments and let each country work out its internal difficulties, we wouldn't have the Vietnam mess on our hands. Nor would we be courting trouble with Brazil, Greece, Peru and other countries.

History has yet to prove that our system is the ultimate answer for all.

The Hammondsville Parent-Teachers Association has voted unanimously to endorse the Edison Local School Bond Issue.

We realize the need for this bond, and urge our community to support it.

Chicago Finds A Defender

WASHINGTON — The first hurrah for Chicago has been sounded among the intellectuals of the land.

Sharply and crisply, an influential voice is calling on the academic world, social workers and those in the service of the poor to stop "punishing Chicago" for having been the site of last August's war between two worlds — the legions of young radicals and the uniformed men charged with keeping order under the law of the day.

Victor Riesel

The voice is that of the American labor movement. It comes from Leo Perlis, the man who heads its vast Community Services. Mr. Perlis, who at times directs as many os 60,000 special unionists during the disasters of men and nature, riots and floods, hunger and hoplessness within the core of cores of the inner cities, demands an "evenhandedness" in the treatment of the Midwest metropolis.

It is not odd that Mr. Perlis should speak up now — eight months after the battle. He has been fighting for evenhandedness since last fall. Several missions, a holiday and the flu kept him from taking his place recently at the conference table of the board of directors of the Council on Social Work Education, which is the prestigious parallel, in its field, of the American Bar Association in law, or the American Medical Association in medicine.

WHEN MR. PERLIS returned last January, he learned that the social work group had voted to punish Chicago by switching the organization convention from that city to another. This meant the loss of some 2,000 delegates from the most eminent domain on this front. At CSWE conclaves there gather those who teach, or have Ph.D.s or master's from most of the nation's major universities, as well as those who work in the field.

This was the eighth or tenth such action by major organizations — and it angered Mr. Perlis, who is labor's representative on the board.

So he wrote to the council's president, Dr. Herman D. Stein, asking why Chicago was being punished while the "hippy-yippy-new left" was being "silently condoned."

"I am sorry," he wrote, "I came back too late to vote, but I do want to register my reaction to the idea of punishing Chicago or protesting against Chicago or both for the so-called police brutality during the Democratic Convention of 1968."

Then he asked if the council board was prepared to be evenhanded.

"Is it equally ready to condemn 'Hippy-yippy-new left' brutality, and if so, how?" he persisted. "Assuming that the police must bear up at all times — unlike most other people — with dignity, restraint and discipline against all physical, verbal, and psychological provacations, what about the provocateurs? Are they and their public actions to be silently condoned by the CSWE vote to condemn publicly official Chicago reaction?"

MR. PERLIS' communication then adds that while many of the young "demonstrators in Chicago were innocent and idealistic, they, nevertheless, permitted themselves to be led and manipulated by the less innocent and the more ideological — by the obscene, the violent and the extreme of the left."

Obviously, neither Mr. Perlis, nor his AFL-CIO departmental chairman, Joe Beirne, head of the Communication Workers of America, nor AFL-CIO President George Meany, with whom Mr. Perlis' letter was cleared, consider last August's conflict a police action.

The communication then notes that 10 Chicago policemen were suspended for actions during the clash and that four have been recommended for dismissal.

"This is what happens in a free society," says Mr. Perlis, "but who will suspend the excrement throwers, the obscenity shouters, the flag burners?. . . .Who will dismiss the not so innocent new left ideologues who organized and manipulated the undemocratic and anti-democratic circus of violence in Chicago? The CSWE, by closing its eyes to the extreme actions which resulted in the extreme reactions?"

IT IS MR. PERLIS' angered contention that the "extreme left and the extreme right are attempting to polarize the country for their own purposes, politics and prejudices. They are endangering the whole democratic process which has kept our society open and flexible. This is the issue today. We can try to solve all our major problems — race relations, poverty, urban blight, social welfare, in an open and flexible society — or someone will solve them for us."

It is high time, adds Perlis talking for American labor, for "democrats (lower cased) to stand up against the radical left as well as against the radical right."

Then Mr. Perlis demanded that the council's board join with him in reconsidering its punishment of Chicago and vote to meet there again.

Some days ago, the council board of directors met in New York. Mr. Perlis carried the vote. The social work leaders reversed themselves and decided to return to the lakeside city, which has been under the big oratorical guns of so many intellectual and artistic organizations.

Mr. Perlis' crusade is not a voice from the cellar. His social work record, his development of the buddy system of aid to new black workers in the huge mills of the land, his succor to those whose homes were burned during urban upheavals of the past, are his credentials in any philosophical stratum.

His is the voice of reason which will not be howled down by the extremists on any side.

The First 100 Days

WASHINGTON — People on the inside of the Nixon administration have no different over-all size-up to offer about the first 100 days than do people outside. It's just too soon to make a judgment as to successes or failures in public policies.

There are dissimilarities, of course, between this and the preceding administration. For one thing, an attempt is being made currently to build more and more staffs to take care of the variety of subjects that underlie the issues of the day.

But it is somewhat puzzling that so many advisers from opposite schools of thought have been assembled. One thinks of what some of them will have to say later on if they resign when their viewpoint isn't adopted.

MR. NIXON, it is explained by some of the insiders, is trying to develop a "consensus" approach like Mr. Johnson did. But clouds are building up and, in the end, the effort to satisfy everybody may wind up satisfying neither side on some of the troublesome questions of the day.

Mr. Nixon hasn't sent to Congress a flood of proposals as Mr. Johnson did when he was inaugurated in January 1965. The impression conveyed instead is that the new administration is moving slowly but deliberately.

President Nixon has handled relations with the press very well and newsmen appreciate his frankness, especially in his televised conferences. But when all the statements and comments made by the President and his spokesmen are summed up and analyzed, it is found that very little of a positive nature has been done to satisfy the huge vote of protest that was cast last election day.

Student "demonstrations" and the accompanying disorders have not been tackled in the way the problem could be. The usual explanation heard is that this is the responsibility of governors and mayors.

Yet the evidence piles up that a well-organized plan is being put into operation across the country. The disturbances follow a pattern that looks as if they were carefully outlined in a guidebook used by student organizations. Just why the Department of Justice hasn't interposed its power of prosecution is not explained.

The crusade being carried on in the collegiate world against the Reserve Officers Training Corps and the violence being used in protesting contracts with universities which supply research facilities for the Defense Department are matters that concern the federal government directly.

But this far the Nixon administration has not moved in to arrest students conspiring to interfere with or impair the military operations of the United States government.

Unfortunately, settlement of the Vietnam War and a withdrawal of a substantial number of troops are not in the cards for a long time—another year at least.

Obviously the desire of many of the young men in the colleges of America not to be required to engage in military service in Vietnam or elsewhere has provided the leaders of unrest with a receptive audience for their repeated denunciations of the war.

The tendency of the American people is to give every new administration "a chance to prove itself." Major issues cannot, to be sure, be solved overnight. But if a trend toward keeping hands off ticklish problems becomes clearly apparent, the tides of public opinion will soon turn.

THE SIMPLE FACT confronting the Nixon administration today is that a vacillating policy in Vietnam during the last few years in disregard of the advice of our most competent military men has added to American casualties. These already have exceeded the losses in the Korean War and it is unlikely that the Communists in Moscow or Peking are ready to call off the North Vietnamese.

The politicians in Congress insist that economic sanctions be imposed against a helpless little country like Rhodesia, because this tends to win Negro votes in the United States. But when it comes to cutting off trade by all countries with North Vietnam through Haiphong's harbor or bombing heavily the supply lines from Red China, no "sanctions" are applied.

The challenge to the Nixon administration by both Moscow and Peking has not yet been met and the American people are still waiting for a clear exposition of America's future policies toward both Communist countries.

Restoring Campus Order

Student-sponsored disorders in the field of higher education are thinning the presidential ranks.

The Chronicle of Higher Education reports that some 70 universities and four-year colleges are seeking chief executives.

Student trouble does not bear the full responsibility for the high presidential dropout rate, but it is often the final straw.

PRESIDENTS ARE SUBJECT to criticism from the public, pressure to raise money and abuse from the faculty in addition to the guff from radicals.

Normal retirements and appointments to other jobs account for some of the vacancies that exist today — but not the majority.

Other presidents are letting it be known they no longer wish to endure the mental and physical punishment from students and faculty. Charles G. Dobbins, executive secretary of the American Council on Education, warned last month that the current adversary relationship among students, faculty and administrators could result in a "massive loss of experienced leadership" in higher education.

And so the violence is causing a shakeup as its perpetrators said it would. However, the effect will not be to the liking of campus radicals.

MANY PRESIDENTS who have remained on the job are taking a hard line in dealing with disruptions with full support of the federal government and public opinion.

New men filling the presidential vacancies will be expected to do the same to preserve the university in the face of mob action.

Maintenance of discipline will restore order on chaotic campuses and no time is to be lost in getting at the job.

Beauty Capital

We extend a warm welcome to the 20 young ladies who will visit East Liverpool over the weekend competing for the "Miss Eastern Ohio" title in the Jaycee Pageant.

They not only add grace and charm to our city and provide a pleasant evening's entertainment; they do us the honor of making East Liverpool a one-day beauty capital of the state. Good fortune to each, and may the winner be "Miss Ohio 1969."

Looking For A Home

People everywhere have trouble finding homes and apartments, but leave it up to New Yorkers to get abode hunting down to a fine science.

New York City is in a real housing pinch because little moderate or low-income housing has been built there since 1963 when new building codes were imposed.

Two-thirds of the existing 2.1 million apartments are still under the rent control that was imposed during World War II. The four million New Yorkers who live in them stay put since they have about the only cheap housing in the city.

Naturally there is a mad scramble when a vacancy does occur.

To be first in line, New Yorkers bribe doormen and moving men for tips. A couple of tricks smacks of ghoulishness. They read obituary columns and buy information from hospital interns about death cases.

When all else fails, drastic action is called for —such as a family giving up a beloved pet.

What may be the ultimate sacrifice in the interest of getting an apartment now has been documented — a hippie actually had his hair cut.

Strange people those New Yorkers.

4-Year Term Too Long

We commend Rep. Richard G. Reichel, R-Massillon, for his leadership in the successful floor fight to send back to committee a bill calling for four-year council terms for nonchartered cities.

Rep. Reichel said: "In municipalities, like on the congressional and state representative levels, voters should have the right to express themselves halfway through the mayor's term of office."

In addition, voters should have the right to vote an ineffective councilman out of office after two years.

The four-year term would be more of a protective device for poor councilmen than an aid to better government. Since ours is a representative form of government, a councilman who must seek election every two years will be more responsive to his constituents than one who must seek election every four years.

Rep. Robert E. Levitt, R-Canton, also is opposed to four-year terms for councilmen and can be expected to fight its passage.

Right now the bill is in the hands of the House Judiciary Committee where an amendment is being considered that would provide for a vote of the people in each municipality on the issue.

The General Assembly should reject the bill, but if legislators do approve it, the protective amendment that would let each municipality decide for itself is a must.

SDS Taking On Industry?

It looks like the Students for a Democratic Society (SDS) is moving faster than anticipated in attempting to "radicalize" American workers.

According to a copy of a SDS summer work-in plan published in the Illinois Manufacturers' Association bulletin, students are to use summer jobs to stir up workers to "seek certain social changes."

THE PLAN OFFERS tips on how to look for a job, how to get a position and what to expect on the job.

Helpful hints include:

"If you take an aptitude test, don't show off. On a time test answer about half the questions or they may be suspicious and want to use you in the 'front office'.

"You should be at your first place looking at around 8:30 or 9 and don't go to your last place any later than noon. Otherwise they'll think you never get up till noon.

"Generally, don't wear a suit, but don't dress like a slob or hippy.

"Be straightforward, use simple language and attitude, not $20 words. Don't volunteer information, just answer what is asked."

How to go about cultivating relationships with the workers and planting ideas are detailed. The plan is explicit in referring students to their SDS group for discussion of problems that might arise and for further instructions.

But the SDS apparently isn't waiting until summer to move into the field of labor.

Twice in recent days, SDS members and dissident Negro workers forced a halt in night-shift production at a Ford Motor Co. plant in Mahwah, N.J.

THE LABOR STRIFE is a tipoff on what can be expected from the SDS and should serve as a warning to potential employers.

An observation from E. Edgerton Hart, executive vice president of the Illinois Manufacturers' Association, provides food for thought on the matter:

"It is to be hoped that this SDS program will not prejudice the chances of college students to obtain summer employment in industry since SDS is a very small minority of college students. But employers should be alert to the problems posed by this program and should make plans as to the best manner of handling suspected troublemakers in their plants."

Water Pollution Pact Withdrawn

PAINESVILLE, Ohio (AP) — A $645,907 federal contract for Lake County water pollution work awarded under the Johnson administration to The Rand Development Corp. of Cleveland has been withdrawn without comment by the Federal Water Pollution Control Administration (FWCPA) in Washington.

FWCPA officials informed county officials Thursday that the project, approved by the pollution agency during President Johnson's term, could not continue with Rand as the primary contractor.

Instrumental in negotiating the contract was former Lake County federal programs coordinator Jack Webb. He quit his county job after Democrats lost control and was hired by Rand last October to assist in directing federally funded research projects such as the work in Mentor.

Rand officials could not be reached for comment.

Church Official In Youngstown Bilked Of $5,000

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP)— Two confidence men using an old ruse have bilked a Baptist Church treasurer out of $5,000 of the church's building fund.

Police said Alexander Williams told them he was stopped in the street Thursday by a man who identified himself as a West Indian. The man then showed Williams credentials indicating he was the son of a minister.

A third man purporting to be a sewing machine salesman joined the two and the West Indian then said he had $7,300 in cash and that he would donate $500 to the church building fund if Williams would help him find a reputable bank.

The man said he did not believe it was possible to withdraw money from the nearby bank where the church funds were deposited, Williams told police. To prove him wrong, Williams said he withdrew $5,000, half of the building fund.

The two men directed him to wrap the money in a newspaper, Williams said. Apparently the men switched newspaper, Williams said, because he was left with a newspaper containing only a handkerchief. Williams said he had been the treasurer for 20 years at the Baptist Temple Church in Campbell.

Water Pollution Pact Withdrawn

PAINESVILLE, Ohio (AP) — A $645,907 federal contract for Lake County water pollution work awarded under the Johnson administration to The Rand Development Corp. of Cleveland has been withdrawn without comment by the Federal Water Pollution Control Administration (FWCPA) in Washington.

FWCPA officials informed county officials Thursday that the project, approved by the pollution agency during President Johnson's term, could not continue with Rand as the primary contractor.

Instrumental in negotiating the contract was former Lake County federal programs coordinator Jack Webb. He quit his county job after Democrats lost control and was hired by Rand last October to 'assist in directing federally funded research projects such as the work in Mentor.

Rand officials could not be reached for comment.

Hunger

cially announced whether such a step has been taken.

The senator has been making behind-the-scene efforts to convince the administration of the need for a vigorous hunger program. An aide indicated Javits decided to speak out publicly only after being advised on the highest possible levels that such a program could not be undertaken at this time.

Javits, referring to reports that some administration officials are not convinced hunger is a critical problem, said:

"I would hope that they will go out into the field, as I've done, to see the widespread, appalling conditions of hunger that demand much more comprehensive measures involving much greater expenditures than they now seem to have in mind."

Javits supported proposals by McGovern to give free food stamps to families with monthly incomes of less than $80. He called this proposal "an indication of the direction of the thinking of the majority on the committee.

"However, I believe that the bill—by dealing almost exclusively with food stamps—does not go far enough in combating the conditions of hunger and malnutrition which plague our nation," Javits said.

He said Republican members of the committee plan to recommend legislation that would provide for involvement of private companies in developing and distributing fortified and enriched foods. It also would deal with such problems as poor administration and difficulty in delivering foods to present recipients who lack transportation.

Aides indicated that at least two of the other four Republicans on the committee—Sen. Charles Percy of Illinois and Marlow Cook of Kentucky—would back the Javits legislation.

To be counted at the polls on Tuesday, the ballots were required to be back in the board's hands by noon today.

Meeting Set For July On Air Problem

NEW CUMBERLAND—Charlottesville, Va., will be the site for an abatement conference on the air pollution problem in the New Cumberland area to be held sometime early July.

The conference is expected to meet July 1-2, but the exact date will be announced later by William H. Megonnell of the Natinal Air Pollution Control Administration.

It was announced at Washington that the conference would be convened following a request by West Virginia Gov. Arch Moore Jr.

Th conference was called under a provision of the federal Clean Air Act which requires the Department of Health, Education and Welfare to take action when state officials advise that residents in their state are adversely affected by pollution originating in another state.

In this case the pollution is said to originate from the Ohio Edison Power Co. plant at Toronto across the Ohio River.

Zirconium, beryllium and tungsten are among the metals processed in solar furnaces because of their high melting points.

Vietnam

both May and August of 1968...

Roughly one-third of the total American and enemy casualties in eight years and four months of fighting in Vietnam have occurred in the year since the United States and North Vietnam agreed to talk peace.

Saturday is the first anniversary of President Lyndon B. Johnson's announcement that Washington and Hanoi had agreed to send negotiators to Paris. Ten days later, on May 13, 1968, preliminary peace talks opened.

In the 52 weeks of fighting from April 27, 1968 through last Saturday, April 26, a total of 12,440 Americans and 153,779 of the enemy were killed in action and 79,793 U.S. troops were wounded, according to U.S. Command figures. South Vietnamese headquarters reports 14,367 of its troops killed and 52,526 wounded in that year.

The U.S. Command says that since the United States entered the war in force on Jan. 1, 1961, a total of 34,446 Americans and 488,231 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong have died in battle and another 221,012 Americans have been wounded.

U.S military sources say the sharp reduction in American combat dead last week—to 163, the lowest total since Jan. 11—indicates the Viet Cong's spring offensive has fizzled out.

The offensive began Feb. 23, and senior U.S. staff officers feel it began petering out a week ago, when the number of enemy rocket and mortar attacks considered significant dropped off to a low of 13. Since then there have been less than a dozen of these attacks a night, including only five reported Thursday night.

U.S. sources say North Vietnamese and Viet Cong units have fallen back to border areas to receive replacements for about 38,000 troops killed in their offensive.

"If they follow the same pattern," said one source, "They'll resupply, replace their losses, recuperate and I suppose prepare for another offensive."

Most of the enemy attacks reported during the past 24 hours came along frontier areas. Seven U.S. Marines were killed and 17 wounded in a day-long figh Thursday two miles south of the demilitarized zone. Initial reports said at least seven North Vitnamese troops were killed.

To the east along the DMZ, South Vietnamese forces clashed for the third day in a row with North Vietnamese soldiers, and 100 of the enemy were reported killed, about half of them by allied bombers. South Vietnamese headquarters said three government soldiers were wounded, none killed, and a total of 231 North Vietnamese troops now have been killed in the area in the past three days.

North Vitnamese gunners also sent nearly 100 rounds of rockets and mortars into the three U.S. bases near the Cambodian border, bases that threaten enemy infiltration routes northwest of Saigon. Over-all casualties were light, the U.S. Command said.

During Ceremonies At Westgate

Teachers Induct Officers

The group met in regular session Thursday afternoon at 2:45.

Joe Mitchell and Harold Baldwin reported on legislative programs on a state level.

A moment of silence followed announcement of the death of Charles DeJulius, a teacher in the East Liverpool school system.

Each member was presented a copy of the Professional Rights and Responsibilities Commission report, with a discussion following.

Mrs. Bebout announced a joint meeting of the former and new executive board at North Elementary Monday at 3:15 p.m.

Mrs. Gyla Nicely officiated during the installation of the following, in addition to Mrs. Bebout and Langdon: McConnell, high school, vice president! Ann Kirkbride of LaCroft Elementary, recording secretary; Jan Dietz of East Junior, corresponding secretary; Gretchen Baldwin of Westgate, treasurer, and Rosalie Spencer, East Elementary, Joe Smith, high school, and Robert McMahon, Westgate Junior High, board of directors.

Hunger

cially announced whether such a step has been taken.

The senator has been making behind-the-scene efforts to convince the administration of the need for a vigorous hunger program. An aide indicated Javits decided to speak out publicly only after being advised on the highest possible levels that such a program could not be undertaken at this time.

Javits, referring to reports that some administration officials are not convinced hunger is a critical problem, said:

"I would hope that they will go out into the field, as I've done, to see the widespread, appalling conditions of hunger that demand much more comprehensive measures involving much greater expenditures than they now seem to have in mind."

Javits supported proposals by McGovern to give free food stamps to families with monthly incomes of less than $80. He called this proposal "an indication of the direction of the thinking of the majority on the committee.

"However, I believe that the bill—by dealing almost exclusively with food stamps—does not go far enough in combating the conditions of hunger and malnutrition which plague our nation," Javits said.

He said Republican members of the committee plan to recommend legislation that would provide for involvement of private companies in developing and distributing fortified and enriched foods. It also would deal with such problems as poor administration and difficulty in delivering foods to present recipients who lack transportation.

Aides indicated that at least two of the other four Republicans on the committee—Sen. Charles Percy of Illinois and Marlow Cook of Kentucky—would back the Javits legislation.

'Early Ballots' Show School Levy Interest

Civilian absentee and disabled voters' ballots issued by the County Election Board for Tuesday's primary before the deadline Thursday at 4 p. m. show that most of the interest centers on the East Livrpool School District's two proposed levy renewals.

Sixty - six of the "early" ballots were issued. Forty - seven of them were obtained by East Liverpool residents and 10 more went to residents of adjoining Liverpool and St. Clair Townships who have a vote on the school issues.

To be counted at the polls on Tuesday, the ballots were required to be back in the board's hands by noon today.

Meeting Set For July On Air Problem

NEW CUMBERLAND—Charlottesville, Va., will be the site for an abatement conference on the air pollution problem in the New Cumberland area to be held sometime early July.

The conference is expected to meet July 1-2, but the exact date will be announced later by William H. Megonnell of the Natinal Air Pollution Control Administration.

It was announced at Washington that the conference would be convened following a request by West Virginia Gov. Arch Moore Jr.

Th conference was called under a provision of the federal Clean Air Act which requires the Department of Health, Education and Welfare to take action when state officials advise that residents in their state are adversely affected by pollution originating in another state.

In this case the pollution is said to originate from the Ohio Edison Power Co. plant at Toronto across the Ohio River.

take the Sinai Desert, saying: "Who could blame us for moving into this land?"

Once more Nasser declared that the Arabs "will never give up any land occupied by Israel and particularly not Jerusalem."

"We will not accept that Jerusalem be annexed to Israel," he said, "We will fight to the last drop of our blood for the liberation of Jerusalem."

The Israelis countered Nasser's claims about the raid Tuesday night, saying an area Egyptian officials showed foreign newsmen was not the target of their attack. An army spokesman in Tel Aviv said the Israeli commandos brought down six power-line towers and the power grid's automatic control center in attacks near Isna and Naj Hamadi 300 miles south of Cairo. Earlier, the Israelis said their men damaged the Naj Hamadi Dam and the Idfu bridge.

At U.N. headquarters a spokesman said Secretary-General Thant would issue a report to the Security Council today or Saturday on his "increasing anxiety for the safety" of the 92 military observers along the Suez Canal cease-fire line.

In letters to Egypt and Israel, Thant said unmistakably marked U.N. observation posts had "been repeatedly fired on by both sides" and U.N. property destroyed and damaged.

The Israelis replied they were "doing their utmost to reduce to the absolute minimum any risks to the observers." Egypt told Thant it would "cooperate completely with the U.N. observers to limit the dangers to which they are exposed." But each side blamed the other for the situation.

Thant warned Egypt and Israel that he didn't feel the U.N. observers along the canal "can or should be maintained indefinitely under such conditions."

In another Middle East development, Iraq and Iran said they were willing to negotiate for a settlement of their dispute over the Shatt Al Aarab, the waterway forming a part of the boundary between them. But the two governments remained far apart on the basic issues in the dispute.

The Shatt Al Arab, formed by the confluence of the Tigris and Euphrates rivers, flows into the Persian Gulf. There is belief that the dispute is the beginning of a battle for influence in the oil sheikdoms along the gulf after British protection forces leave in 1971.

Once more Nasser declared that the Arabs "will never give up any land occupied by Israel and particularly not Jerusalem."

"We will not accept that Jerusalem be annexed to Israel," he said. "We will fight to the last drop of our blood for the liberation of Jerusalem."

The Israelis countered Nasser's claims about the raid Tuesday night, saying an area Egyptian officials showed foreign newsmen was not the target of their attack. An army spokesman in Tel Aviv said the Israeli commandos brought down six power-line towers and the power grid's automatic control center in attacks near Isna and Naj Hamadi 300 miles south of Cairo. Earlier, the Israelis said their men damaged the Naj Hamadi Dam and the Idfu bridge.

HINTS FROM HELOISE

Handy Spoon Stirrer Tip

DEAR GALS: Guess what I just learned? By accident, natch . . .

Instead of using plastic tops from coffee cans, wet sponges, or dirtying that little "thinga-magadget" to rest your spoon on after you've stirred food while cooking, try this:

Heloise

Take an old fruit jar or fill up a drinking glass with some tap water and set it near or on your stove.

Then all you have to do each time you stir something is put your spoon in there until it's time to stir again.

None of the food will stick (even spaghetti sauce) because it's still warm when you dunk it. Another good thing about this is that you don't have to scrub it later to get it clean.

Afer you empty the food into your serving bowl, just stick that spoon in the little ol' jar of water again and it will be easy to wash later.

Now AIN'T that something?

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: Washing the car was always a problem for me because I'm short and we have no ladder.

So to wash the top of our car, I cut a sleeve off an old terry cloth robe and slipped it over the handle of the broom and stretched it down over the bristle part, covering it completely.

Then I use the hose in one hand and the covered broom in the other to scrub the top of the car and other places I can't reach.

It is better than breaking my neck trying to climb up and reach with my arm.

Also, I found I did not have to lean against the wet car to reach the top. No water ran down my arms and my clothes were even drier when I finished!

CORA KILANOWSKI.

DEAR HELOISE: I wondered why in the world my teen-agers watched rock and roll on TV . . . with all of those boys with long hair.

So one day when my daughters were gone I turned off the sound and just watched their gyrations.

So something for me: Turn off the sound and try to follow them. It sure has reduced my figure!

TUT-TUT.

I tried it, but the next morning did I have sore muscles!

If the teen-agers get a release this way, why shouldn't we? Only thing we are going to find against us is that our daughter will say we don't know how to strut. We can't dance like they do.

Well, they can't dance like we do either. Did I hear a waltz or a foxtrot?

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: My little girl wears black patent shoes and keeps the toes of them scuffed.

So I got a brainstorm and put shoe dye on the scuffed place and then polished away. Now they look almost new again and she can wear 'em until she outgrows them, or they wear out.

MRS. "FIXIT".

Ever tried a felt-tip marker — then polish? Works too, hon.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: I found an easier way to clean that awkward spot between my stove, refrigerator and cabinet.

I dampen my old quilted, mitten potholder with warm water, speinkle onsome cleanser, put it on my hand and scrub away.

The mitt won't fall off and it does a dandy job of cleaning hard-to-reach spots.

YOUNG HOUSEWIFE.

Oh doll . . . don't forget you can use it when defrosting too- Great for cold, numb fingers.

HELOISE.

House Committee On Crime Eyes Citizens For Solution

WASHINGTON (AP) — The chairman of the new House committee on crime says the panel is going to look for solutions from the one source he feels has not been tapped—the ordinary citizen.

"Everybody else except the people involved have been heard by crime commissions," said Rep. Claude Pepper, D-Fla. "I want us to go to a number of big cities and hear from ordinary citizens on what can be done about crime."

"The one thing we can do that hasn't been done before is go to the people," he said in an interview. "Perhaps they have suggestions the experts have missed."

The House, in authorizing the committee Thursday, gave it sweeping authority to look into the causes of crime and what can be done to combat it. The panel, however, has no power to initiate legislation.

What will the committee accomplish?

"I don't know whether we can do anything," Pepper answered. "But I intend to try."

"We'll deal with everything from illegal drug traffic to organized crime and juvenile delinquency to homicide," Pepper said. "This will include student episodes when they involve crimes like trespass, assault and weapons."

Pepper said the House created the committee because of rising public criticism and concern. It is time, he indicated, for the government to let the people know what is being done and what they can do to help.

Clifford Saw War Effort Hopeless, Sources Claim

WASHINGTON (AP) — Clark M. Clifford, a strong supporter of U.S. Vietnam policy when he became the Johnson administration's defense chief in 1968, has said he left office convinced the nation's military effort in the war was hopeless, sources say.

Clifford, secretary of Defense from Jan. 30, 1968 until President Johnson left office earlier this year, declared his disillusionment to some Senate Foreign Relations Committee members called together by Sen. J. W. Fulbright, sources said.

Fulbright, one of the strongest critics of the nation's Vietnam involvement, called the meeting April 22, the sources said, after learning of Clifford's change of heart.

Clifford, one of President Johnson's closest associates, entered the Defense Department publicly committed to the idea that the American intervention was necessary, not only to save South Vietnam, but to prevent the takeover of other non-Communist nations in Southeast Asia.

Clifford made his views clear when he told a Senate committee considering his appointment Jan. 25, 1968:

"To me it is not a question of years, it is a question of weeks and months, if we weren't there, until Southeast Asia, nation by nation, succumbed and that is not happening now, because it is not happening, in my opinion, because we are there and because we have extended this shield and I believe we must continue to do it."

But at the meeting last month, the sources said, he told the senators he left office in disagreement with many of former President Johnson's Vietnam policies and convinced the Domino Theory that the fall of Vietnam would lead to the takeover of other nations was fallacious.

In addition, Clifford told the senators he didn't feel President Nixon had tried hard enough to extricate the United States from Vietnam.

The Sources also said Clifford's statements were one of the reasons behind a call Thursday by Sen. George D. Aiken, R-Vt., for the United States to start an immediate withdrawal of troops from the war zone.

HINTS FROM HELOISE

Handy Spoon Stirrer Tip

DEAR GALS: Guess what I just learned? By accident, natch . . .

Instead of using plastic tops from coffee cans, wet sponges, or dirtying that little "thinga-magadget" to rest your spoon on after you've stirred food while cooking, try this:

Heloise

Take an old fruit jar or fill up a drinking glass with some tap water and set it near or on your stove.

Then all you have to do each time you stir something is put your spoon in there until it's time to stir again.

None of the food will stick (even spaghetti sauce) because it's still warm when you dunk it. Another good thing about this is that you don't have to scrub it later to get it clean.

Afer you empty the food into your serving bowl, just stick that spoon in the little ol' jar of water again and it will be easy to wash later.

Now AIN'T that something?

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: Washing the car was always a problem for me because I'm short and we have no ladder.

So to wash the top of our car, I cut a sleeve off an old terry cloth robe and slipped it over the handle of the broom and stretched it down over the bristle part, covering it completely.

Then I use the hose in one hand and the covered broom in the other to scrub the top of the car and other places I can't reach.

It is better than breaking my neck trying to climb up and reach with my arm.

Also, I found I did not have to lean against the wet car to reach the top. No water ran down my arms and my clothes were even drier when I finished!

CORA KILANOWSKI.

DEAR HELOISE: I wondered why in the world my teen-agers watched rock and roll on TV . . . with all of those boys with long hair.

So one day when my daughters were gone I turned off the sound and just watched their gynations.

So something for me: Turn off the sound and try to follow them. It sure has reduced my figure!

TUT-TUT.

I tried it, but the next morning did I have sore muscles!

If the teen-agers get a release this way, why shouldn't we? Only thing we are going to find against us is that our daughter will say we don't know how to strut. We can't dance like they do.

Well, they can't dance like we do either. Did I hear a waltz or a foxtrot?

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: My little girl wears black patent shoes and keeps the toes of them scuffed.

So I got a brainstorm and put shoe dye on the scuffed place and then polished away. Now they look almost new again and she can wear 'em until she outgrows them, or they wear out.

MRS. "FIXIT".

Ever tried a felt-tip marker — then polish? Works too, hon.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: I found an easier way to clean that awkward spot between my stove, refrigerator and cabinet.

I dampen my old quilted, mitten potholder with warm water, speinkle onsome cleanser, put it on my hand and scrub away.

The mitt won't fall off and it does a dandy job of cleaning hard-to-reach spots.

YOUNG HOUSEWIFE.

Oh doll . . . don't forget you can use it when defrosting too- Great for cold, numb fingers.

IBOP Lists New Proposals Due For Convention's Action

The International Brotherhood of Operative Potters today listed more resolutions proposed by its local unions for action at the 75th convention in July at Anaheim, Calif.

Local 9 (generalware) of East Liverpool proposes that at least one international officer remain at the headquarters here to help process important business while the convention is in session.

Local 9 (generalware) of East Liverpool proposes that at least one international officer remain at the headquarters here to help process important business while the convention is in session.

Local 94 suggests that the IBOP arrange an annual seminar to teach all local union officials and shop committee members "their fundamental duties, techniques, methods of keeping records and preparation and filing of all necessary forms."

House Committee On Crime Eyes Citizens For Solution

WASHINGTON (AP) — The chairman of the new House committee on crime says the panel is going to look for solutions from the one source he feels has not been tapped—the ordinary citizen.

"Everybody else except the people involved have been heard by crime commissions," said Rep. Claude Pepper, D-Fla. "I want us to go to a number of big cities and hear from ordinary citizens on what can be done about crime."

"The one thing we can do that hasn't been done before is go to the people," he said in an interview. "Perhaps they have suggestions the experts have missed."

The House, in authorizing the committee Thursday, gave it sweeping authority to look into the causes of crime and what can be done to combat it. The panel, however, has no power to initiate legislation.

What will the committee accomplish?

"I don't know whether we can do anything," Pepper answered. "But I intend to try."

"We'll deal with everything from illegal drug traffic to organized crime and juvenile delinquency to homicide," Pepper said. "This will include student episodes when they involve crimes like trespass, assault and weapons."

Pepper said the House created the committee because of rising public criticism and concern. It is time, he indicated, for the government to let the people know what is being done and what they can do to help.

The DOCTOR Says

Causes Of Birth Defects Vary

A MOTHER WRITES tht her two - week - old baby was born with the four fingers of his left hand webbed together. The doctor told her that corective surgery should not be done until the boy is two. She wants to know what caused the deformity and why it should not be corrected sooner.

Dr Brandstadt

Congenital malformations may be caused by German measles in the mother in the first three months of intrauterine life, exposure of the developing fetus to X rays, by the mother taking various drugs early in her pregnancy or by a combination of factors.

Surgical correction of the webbed fingers is a tedious procedure that must be done in two or more stages. It is usually started in the second year because it is not an emergency and the child is then in better condition to withstand the operations.

Q—Eight months ago when our baby was born, his abdominal wall was not formed and his abdominal organs were outside his body. The doctor called it an omphalocele. He lived for only two days in spite of an operation to close his abdomen. What caused the deformity? What are the chances of this happening to my next child?

A—Althoug several causes for birth defects are known (see preceding answer), in many cases no cause can be found. Since omphalocele is a rare defect, the chance that it would occur twice in one family is negligible.

Q—My son, 2½, was recently operated on for Meckel's diverticulum. What caused it and what are its effects if untreated?

A—In the developing fetus there is a duct connecting the umbilical cord with the small intestine. This nomally disappears by the sixth week of embryonic life, but in 2 or 3 per cent of all infants a small outpouching of the intestine persists. This is a Meckel's diverticulum.

In most persons with this defect there are no symptoms, but in a few there may be bleeding from the bowel, inflammation of the pouch with rupture and peritonitis. The symptoms then would be similar to those of a ruptured appendix or intestinal obstruction. The treatment is surgical correction.

Please send your questions and comments to Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D., in care of The Review. While Dr. Brandstadt cannot answer individual letters, he will answer letters of general interest in future columns.

Maverick's hot! Any questions?

Measure it any way you like. By the crowds. The news stories. The sales. Few cars have caused a sensation like Maverick or broken so many records. Every day more and more people are asking questions about it. Here are the answers.

Q. Why did you build the Maverick?
A. We think of Maverick as another one of Ford Motor Company's answers to the gold drain. Now Americans who want small car economy don't have to send their U.S. dollars overseas.

Q. Why did you call it Maverick?
A. You know what a maverick is. A maverick breaks the rules. A maverick is different. Maverick plugs the big gap between the compacts and the imports. It has a wheelbase eight inches shorter than a '69 Falcon, eight and one-half inches longer than a VW 1500. Nothing else like it.

Q. Why did you make it this size?
A. Maverick pinches pennies, not people. We gave Maverick more leg room. More shoulder room. More luggage room. Good example: the front seat of a Maverick offers you nine inches more shoulder room than the front seat of the leading economy import and its trunk can handle all the luggage for a family of four, including a set of golf clubs.

Q. What do I get for the price?
A. You get your money's worth. A complete, built-for-Americans kind of car. Room. Hot styling. Color-keyed interiors. Even the heater is included. Some economy car interiors are about as luxurious as a park bench. Not Maverick's. You get plush seats. Cloth and vinyl upholstery with unique tartan plaid cloth inserts. You also get safety features like smart pull-out door handles. Strong safety door locks. Two-speed electric wipers. Safety belts. Head restraints. Plus conveniences like armrests, coat hooks, lighted heater controls . . . important little things that add so much to your driving comfort.

Q. What about options?
A. You can get 'em if you want 'em. You can order integral air conditioning. (It's built in, not hung on.) Other options include 3-speed automatic or low-cost semiautomatic transmission, and a hefty 200 CID Six. But lots of people won't put an extra cent into this car. Because it's all there. A complete car all ready to drive home.

Q. What kind of gas mileage can I get?
A. That depends on you as well as the car. You can get as much as 25 or 26 miles per gallon—if you have an educated toe and the right road conditions. If you have a lead foot, or do a lot of city driving, you will get a lot less. In tests by professional drivers at our tracks, where we do our best to duplicate actual driving conditions, Maverick averaged 22.5 mpg.

Q. What kind of power does Maverick have?
A. Maverick's Six lets loose 105 galloping horses. That's 52 more than you get in the 4-cylinder VW 1500. Maverick can cover 417 feet in ten seconds from a standing start. That means you can get up to highway speed in a hurry. When you enter a 70 mph turnpike, you won't feel like a retired bookkeeper thrust into the middle of a pro football game.

Q. If it has an eight inch longer wheelbase than the leading import, does it still handle and park easily?
A. Maverick can U-turn in a tighter circle (35.6 feet) than the leading economy import (36.0 feet). Maverick can slant through traffic like a halfback. It can turn on a dime and give you nine cents change. If you've been driving any other American car, you'll find Maverick's neat size adds up to 5½ feet to any parking space.

Q. Can Detroit really build a small economy car that's tough and long lasting?
A. It's not easy, but we did it. Maverick's unitized body construction makes it light, strong and durable. It's welded like a battleship. Rustproofing compound goes into deep crevices that never see the light of day. Then all that strength is covered with four coats of paint for lasting beauty. Result: one tough little car that's put together to stay together. (The service schedule in the Maverick owner's manual goes up to 108,000 miles or nine years; that ought to tell you something about its rugged durability.)

Q. How about parts and service?
A. Maverick is designed to be unusually easy to service. You're dealing with made-in-America parts and 6,000 easy-to-find Ford Dealers. Fast repairs and easy replacements mean extra savings in both time and money.

Q. Is Maverick really easier and less expensive to maintain than an economy import?
A. Definitely. Maverick oil changes come only every 6,000 miles and chassis lubrication once every 36,000 miles. The leading economy import recommends oil changes every 3,000 miles (twice as often as Maverick) and chassis lubrication every 6,000 miles (six times as often as Maverick!). Those are just a few examples of the many ways Maverick lessens inconvenience and lowers operating cost.

Q. Can I do my own maintenance work?
A. Yes, if you have an average amount of mechanical ability. The Maverick owner's manual contains 24 pages of detailed diagrams and easy-to-follow instructions for routine maintenance jobs you can do yourself, if you wish. You'll find it easy to change spark plugs, replace ignition points . . . plus many other do-it-yourself repairs and replacements.

Q. Can a small car be safe? And how safe is safe?
A. This small car incorporates the latest advances in engineering. Maverick's brakes are as big as a standard compact's—designed to stop cars weighing hundreds of pounds more. Maverick gives you weight . . . power . . . stability. Designed for American driving conditions.

Q. How does Maverick ride?
A. Here's where Maverick's longer, wider stance really pays off. You get a smoother, quieter ride. Maverick's tight, strong, unitized body helps eliminate squeaks and rattles. Special insulation blocks out road noise. The people who brought you a Ford that was quieter than a Rolls-Royce now bring you a small car that doesn't sound like a power mower.

Q. Is there an advantage in the fact that Maverick is really a 1970 car?
A. Slower depreciation is one money-in-the-pocket advantage. Maverick's 1970 model designation means it keeps its trade-in value higher, longer. (Maverick is built to be a good investment from the minute you buy it to the minute you sell it.)

Better come take a look at this one. You'll find it where the action is . . . right in there with other great Ford values like specially equipped Ford Galaxie 500's . . . Fairlanes . . . Mustangs and Falcons.

The DOCTOR Says

Causes Of Birth Defects Vary

Dr Brandstadt

A MOTHER WRITES tht her two - week - old baby was born with the four fingers of his left hand webbed together. The doctor told her that corective surgery should not be done until the boy is two. She wants to know what caused the deformity and why it should not be corrected sooner.

Congenital malformations may be caused by German measles in the mother in the first three months of intrauterine life, exposure of the developing fetus to X rays, by the mother taking various drugs early in her pregnancy or by a combination of factors.

Surgical correction of the webbed fingers is a tedious procedure that must be done in two or more stages. It is usually started in the second year because it is not an emergency and the child is then in better condition to withstand the operations.

Q—Eight months ago when our baby was born, his abdominal wall was not formed and his abdominal organs were outside his body. The doctor called it an omphalocele. He lived for only two days in spite of an operation to close his abdomen. What caused the deformity? What are the chances of this happening to my next child?

A—Althoug several causes for birth defects are known (see preceding answer), in many cases no cause can be found. Since omphalocele is a rare defect, the chance that it would occur twice in one family is negligible.

Q—My son, 2½, was recently operated on for Meckel's diverticulum. What caused it and what are its effects if untreated?

A—In the developing fetus there is a duct connecting the umbilical cord with the small intestine. This nomally disappears by the sixth week of embryonic life, but in 2 or 3 per cent of all infants a small outpouching of the intestine persists. This is a Meckel's diverticulum.

In most persons with this defect there are no symptoms, but in a few there may be bleeding from the bowel, inflammation of the pouch with rupture and peritonitis. The symptoms then would be similar to those of a ruptured appendix or intestinal obstruction. The treatment is surgical correction.

Please send your questions and comments to Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D., in care of The Review. While Dr. Brandstadt cannot answer individual letters, he will answer letters of general interest in future columns.

Maverick's hot! Any questions?

Measure it any way you like. By the crowds. The news stories. The sales. Few cars have caused a sensation like Maverick or broken so many records. Every day more and more people are asking questions about it. Here are the answers.

Q. Why did you build the Maverick?
A. We think of Maverick as another one of Ford Motor Company's answers to the gold drain. Now Americans who want small car economy don't have to send their U.S. dollars overseas.

Q. Why did you call it Maverick?
A. You know what a maverick is. A maverick breaks the rules. A maverick is different. Maverick plugs the big gap between the compacts and the imports. It has a wheelbase eight inches shorter than a '69 Falcon, eight and one-half inches longer than a VW 1500. Nothing else like it.

Q. Why did you make it this size?
A. Maverick pinches pennies, not people. We gave Maverick more leg room. More shoulder room. More luggage room. Good example: the front seat of a Maverick offers you nine inches more shoulder room than the front seat of the leading economy import and its trunk can handle all the luggage for a family of four, including a set of golf clubs.

Q. What do I get for the price?
A. You get your money's worth. A complete, built-for-Americans kind of car. Room. Hot styling. Color-keyed interiors. Even the heater is included. Some economy car interiors are about as luxurious as a park bench. Not Maverick's. You get plush seats. Cloth and vinyl upholstery with unique tartan plaid cloth inserts. You also get safety features like smart pull-out door handles. Strong safety door locks. Two-speed electric wipers. Safety belts. Head restraints. Plus conveniences like armrests, coat hooks, lighted heater controls . . . important little things that add so much to your driving comfort.

Q. What about options?
A. You can get 'em if you want 'em. You can order integral air conditioning. (It's built in, not hung on.) Other options include 3-speed automatic or low-cost semiautomatic transmission, and a hefty 200 CID Six. But lots of people won't put an extra cent into this car. Because it's all there. A complete car all ready to drive home.

Q. What kind of gas mileage can I get?
A. That depends on you as well as the car. You can get as much as 25 or 26 miles per gallon—if you have an educated toe and the right road conditions. If you have a lead foot, or do a lot of city driving, you will get a lot less. In tests by professional drivers at our tracks, where we do our best to duplicate actual driving conditions, Maverick averaged 22.5 mpg.

Q. What kind of power does Maverick have?
A. Maverick's Six lets loose 105 galloping horses. That's 52 more than you get in the 4-cylinder VW 1500. Maverick can cover 417 feet in ten seconds from a standing start. Use Observance Of 'Law Day'

Nixon Aides Again Blast At Violence On Campus

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration, using the observance of "Law Day 1969" as a forum, has renewed its attacks on campus violence.

Justice Department officials, headed by Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell, fanned out across the country to speak at Law Day ceremonies Thursday and demand an end to student disorders.

Picking up the theme President Nixon outlined earlier in the week, Mitchell demanded that university officials and local law officials put an end to the student violence.

"Violence and dissatisfaction on our college campuses are a serious threat to our system of law, a threat as disturbing as the violence in our cities," Mitchell said to the Detroit, Mich., Bar Association annual Law Day dinner.

The administration has tried to be patient in the face of continuing campus chaos, Mitchell said, but "the time has come for an end to patience.

"The time has come for us to demand, in the strongest possible terms, that university officials, local enforcement agencies and local courts apply the law," Mitchell declared.

"If arrests must be made, then arrests should be," he said. "If violators must be prosecuted, then prosecutions should be."

Nixon, in a Tuesday speech to the U.S. Chamber of Commerce, called on college administrators to take the necessary action to stop campus violence or see an end to the American education system.

Mitchell, who attacked student militants as "nothing but tyrants," was joined in the assault by two key aides—Deputy Atty. Gen. Richard G. Kleindienst and Asst. Atty. Gen. William H. Rehnquist—who made Law Day speeches in Washington and Newark, Del., respectively.

The emphasis was on local law officials and college heads ending the campus problem. But the administration officials did not rule out future federal intervention, although there were no indications of quick action.

As Michell spoke in Detroit, there were voices on Capitol Hill calling for Senate investigations and grand jury probes and suggesting the country may be in the initial stages of revolution.

Chairman John L. McClellan, D-Ark., announced that the Senate's permanent investigation subcommittee will start hearings in about a month on campus disorders.

Federal grand jury probes were urged by Sen. Gordeon Allott, R-Colo., in areas where there have been college disturbances. He said evidence indicates "that there is an active, aggressive national conspiracy" to disrupt "the peace and dignity of the academic communities."

Strikers At Beaver Plant Ordered Back

BEAVER, Pa. (AP) — Striking electrical workers were ordered to return to work today at the Westinghouse Electric Co. to await the outcome of further negotiations on a dispute over job classifications.

The workers, members of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, were ordered back to work by the union Thursday night after they voted to give local negotiators strike authorization power.

A spokesman for the union local said the workers, who began a wildcat walkout at a section of the Westinghouse plant on Monday, were told return to work because the international has not yet approved a strike.

Advertising Of Bids Planned On Base Operator At Airport

LISBON — The Columbiana County commissioners and the County Airport Authority are prepared to advertise for bid proposals for a fixed base operator at the new airport under construction in Madison Township.

Prosecuting Atty. J. Warren Bettis advised the commissioners Thursday that a proposed advertisement form has been cleared by the Cleveland office of the Federal Aviation Administration.

In approving the prosecutor's proposed form, Gerald D. Curtin, chief of the airports branch, wrote:

"The sole concern of the FAA in any proposed arrangement between the airport owners and fixed based operator is the effect the arrangement could have on existing obligations between the airport owners and the government."

The owners are the county commissioners and the CAA.

"Specifically," Curtin added, "the FAA seeks to insure that there has been no granting or denial of rights to use airport facilities contrary to law or terms of the advance planning and grant agreements."

The agency is also concerned that the airport owner does not contractually surrender the capability of controlling the airport, Curtin said.

He suggested that "you permit us to review any proposed leases or contracts prior to execution to determine if the terms are in any way objectionable."

The airport owners received two proposals for fixed base operator March 12, but discarded both two weeks later after running into legal problems.

Proposals were submitted by Savors Aviation, Inc., of Negley and Cardinal Aviation of East Liverpool.

The commissioners and the CAA asked the prosecutor to prepare a form to use in asking for new proposals. It was approved by the owners and by Norman Crabtree, director of the Ohio Department of Aviation before Bettis sent it to the FAA.

Shake-Up In Car Liability Rating Looms In W.Va.

CHARLESTON (AP)—A complete shake-up of the auto liability rating system in West Virginia could go into effect Jan. 1 1970, if a proposal by the Insurance Rating Board (IRB) is approved by the State Insurance Commission.

The IRB proposal, submitted Thursday, would reduce rates for drivers under 30, whose rates would go up.

The rate reduction for elderly drivers would be five per cent, and the corresponding increase for younger drivers would be seven per cent. The rate hike would hit single men in the 25-29 age group and youthful drivers.

Other changes proposed by the IRB:

—A five per cent rate reduction for cars used in business.

—A five per cent increase on cars driven a distance of three to 10 miles to work daily.

—A 10 per cent increase for farmer-owned cars.

—A two per cent reduction for insured learners in the 17-20 age group.

—Increased rates for drivers with poor records.

The IRB represents 90 insurance companies that write about 20 per cent of the auto liability and about a third of the physical damage insurance in West Virginia.

State Insurance Commissioner Samuel H. Weese said his office is waiting for IRB statistics on the proposal. "We have statistics of our own to consider," Weese said.

For fairly short distances, up to one mile, ice skates are faster than roller skates. For longer distances, such as two miles or five miles, roller skates are faster because they require less stamina to maintain speed.

Many Residents Will Vote Twice, And Legally, Too

Many East Liverpool residents will vote twice on Tuesday — and legally, too.

By coincidence, the municipal primary election and the general election of the International Brotherhood of Operative Potters fall on the same date.

City residents, in many instances, will be able to vote in a party primary to help nominate municipal officials and then cast ballots for election of 12 international officers of the IBOP.

The IBOP'S interest will center on election of a new president to replace E. L. Wheatley, who did not seek a new term. Potters here and throughout the U.S. and parts of Canada will choose between Floyd Jividen of Newell, a kiln fireman, and Lester H. Null of East Liverpool, now international third vice president.

The IBOP nominees were picked at a primary in March. The union also will choose a secretary - treasurer and 10 vice presidents. Since local unions report election results by mail, the IBOP expects the final returns will be available the week following the balloting.

The generally - accepted accuracy rating of weather predictions is 87 per cent.

Man, 22, Convicted In Mail Bomb Case

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Orville E. Stifel II, a former Cincinnati laboratory technician, was convicted by a U.S. District Court jury Thursday of mailing a bomb that killed a Lorain teacher, his rival in a college romance.

However, Stifel, 22, escaped the death penalty when the jury of seven men and five women recommended life imprisonment.

Stifel was charged with mailing the bomb that killed Daniel J. Ronec, 23, in his home at Lorain last July 8.

His lawyer, William "Foss" Hopkins, was not in court when the verdict was returned, but Hopkins' assistant, Peter Pandilidis, said he would try to get a retrial.

As Congressional Hearing Ends

TV Says No Need Now To Curb Cigarette Ads

WASHINGTON (AP) — The television industry, acting as a congressional hearing into the smoking and health controversy drew to a close, says tighter voluntary controls on cigarette advertising are not necessary for the time being.

The Television Review Board of the National Association of Broadcasters said Thursday it had "decided to keep the matter of cigarette advertising under continuing review and that no further actions are necessary at this time." The Board action was taken Wednesday, a NAB official said.

Current voluntary NAB controls ban smoking commercials aimed at the young, endorsements by athletes and the making of medical claims.

The NAB also said it feared that "action at this time might appear to some to be merely a strategic maneuver designed to influence congressional action," referring to the House Commerce Committee's just concluded inquiry into the cigarette labeling act.

The last witness Thursday was Robert B. Meyner, director of the cigarette industry's advertising code, who said past performances by the Federal Trade Commission raise questions about letting it have broader authority in the field.

The FTC has served notice it wants to toughen warnings on cigarette packages and extend it to advertising.

The Federal Communications Commission also has suggested a ban on radio and television advertising of cigarettes.

Both are contingent, however, on Congress turning loose this authority. The agencies, and states as well, are pre-empted by present law from making any changes in cigarette advertising. This section, however, expires on June 30.

The tobacco industry wants to extend the pre-emption on an indefinite basis, thus thwarting the agency proposals, and also wants to keep the present warning that smoking may be a health hazard on the pack unchanged.

Meyner said the cigarette industry's review board looked over some 24,143 advertising submissions and 1,815 were disapproved or withdrawn.

Rep. Harley O. Staggers, D-W. Va., committee chairman, said it would be some time before his unit begins to reach the stage of deciding what action to take.

The television and advertising industries have a large economic stake in the outcome of the controversy. Nearly $240 million was spent on television ads last year by the cigarette industry.

However, some independent television groups have dropped all cigarette advertising. They were joined Thursday by a major metropolitan newspaper, the Boston Globe, which announced it would accept no more cigarette ads.

The Gobe and the Christian Science Monitor are the only major daily newspapers to have such a ban.

Use Observance Of 'Law Day'

Nixon Aides Again Blast At Violence On Campus

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration, using the observance of "Law Day 1969" as a forum, has renewed its attacks on campus violence.

Justice Department officials, headed by Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell, fanned out across the country to speak at Law Day ceremonies Thursday and demand an end to student disorders.

Picking up the theme President Nixon outlined earlier in the week, Mitchell demanded that university officials and local law officials put an end to the student violence.

"Violence and dissatisfaction on our college campuses are a serious threat to our system of law, a threat as disturbing as the violence in our cities," Mitchell said to the Detroit, Mich., Bar Association annual Law Day dinner.

The administration has tried to be patient in the face of continuing campus chaos, Mitchell said, but "the time has come for an end to patience.

"The time has come for us to demand, in the strongest possible terms, that university officials, local enforcement agencies and local courts apply the law," Mitchell declared.

"If arrests must be made, then arrests should be," he said. "If violators must be prosecuted, then prosecutions should be."

Nixon, in a Tuesday speech to the U.S. Chamber of Commerce, called on college administrators to take the necessary action to stop campus violence or see an end to the American education system.

Mitchell, who attacked student militants as "nothing but tyrants," was joined in the assault by two key aides—Deputy Atty. Gen. Richard G. Kleindienst and Asst. Atty. Gen. William H. Rehnquist—who made Law Day speeches in Washington and Newark, Del., respectively.

The emphasis was on local law officials and college heads ending the campus problem. But the administration officials did not rule out future federal intervention, although there were no indications of quick action.

As Michell spoke in Detroit, there were voices on Capitol Hill calling for Senate investigations and grand jury probes and suggesting the country may be in the initial stages of revolution.

Chairman John L. McClellan, D-Ark., announced that the Senate's permanent investigation subcommittee will start hearings in about a month on campus disorders.

Federal grand jury probes were urged by Sen. Gordeon Allott, R-Colo., in areas where there have been college disturbances. He said evidence indicates "that there is an active, aggressive national conspiracy" to disrupt "the peace and dignity of the academic communities."

Strikers At Beaver Plant Ordered Back

BEAVER, Pa. (AP) — Striking electrical workers were ordered to return to work today at the Westinghouse Electric Co. to await the outcome of further negotiations on a dispute over job classifications.

The workers, members of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, were ordered back to work by the union Thursday night after they voted to give local negotiators strike authorization power.

A spokesman for the union local said the workers, who began a wildcat walkout at a section of the Westinghouse plant on Monday, were told return to work because the international has not yet approved a strike.

Advertising Of Bids Planned On Base Operator At Airport

LISBON — The Columbiana County commissioners and the County Airport Authority are prepared to advertise for bid proposals for a fixed base operator at the new airport under construction in Madison Township.

Prosecuting Atty. J. Warren Bettis advised the commissioners Thursday that a proposed advertisement form has been cleared by the Cleveland office of the Federal Aviation Administration.

In approving the prosecutor's proposed form, Gerald D. Curtin, chief of the airports branch, wrote:

"The sole concern of the FAA in any proposed arrangement between the airport owners and fixed based operator is the effect the arrangement could have on existing obligations between the airport owners and the government."

The owners are the county commissioners and the CAA.

"Specifically," Curtin added, "the FAA seeks to insure that there has been no granting or denial of rights to use airport facilities contrary to law or terms of the advance planning and grant agreements."

The agency is also concerned that the airport owner does not contractually surrender the capability of controlling the airport, Curtin said.

He suggested that "you permit us to review any proposed leases or contracts prior to execution to determine if the terms are in any way objectionable."

The airport owners received two proposals for fixed base operator March 12, but discarded both two weeks later after running into legal problems.

Proposals were submitted by Savors Aviation, Inc., of Negley and Cardinal Aviation of East Liverpool.

The commissioners and the CAA asked the prosecutor to prepare a form to use in asking for new proposals. It was approved by the owners and by Norman Crabtree, director of the Ohio Department of Aviation before Bettis sent it to the FAA.

Shake-Up In Car Liability Rating Looms In W.Va.

CHARLESTON (AP)—A complete shake-up of the auto liability rating system in West Virginia could go into effect Jan. 1 1970, if a proposal by the Insurance Rating Board (IRB) is approved by the State Insurance Commission.

The IRB proposal, submitted Thursday, would reduce rates for drivers under 30, whose rates would go up.

The rate reduction for elderly drivers would be five per cent, and the corresponding increase for younger drivers would be seven per cent. The rate hike would hit single men : the 25-29 age group and youthful drivers.

Other changes proposed by the IRB:

—A five per cent rate reduction for cars used in business.

—A five per cent increase on cars driven a distance of three to 10 miles to work daily.

—A 10 per cent increase for farmer-owned cars.

—A two per cent reduction for insured learners in the 17-20 age group.

—Increased rates for drivers with poor records.

The IRB represents 90 insurance companies that write about 20 per cent of the auto liability and about a third of the physical damage insurance in West Virginia.

Panel Talk Planned At Resources Center

Panelists will be Mrs. J. C. Singleton and Mr. Aaron Golding of Midland, Mrs. Joyce Sleigh of Aliquippa, Mrs. Joe-Marva Williams, Mrs. Myllicent Russell and Miss Alice Lee Brooks of East Liverpool. A special meeting of all the prospective models for the May 18 fashion show will be held at the center at 6:30 preceding the panel discussion.

As Congressional Hearing Ends

TV Says No Need Now To Curb Cigarette Ads

WASHINGTON (AP) — The television industry, acting as a congressional hearing into the smoking and health controversy drew to a close, says tighter voluntary controls on cigarette advertising are not necessary for the time being.

The Television Review Board of the National Association of Broadcasters said Thursday it had "decided to keep the matter of cigarette advertising under continuing review and that no further actions are necessary at this time." The Board action was taken Wednesday, a NAB official said.

Current voluntary NAB controls ban smoking commercials aimed at the young, endorsements by athletes and the making of medical claims.

The NAB also said it feared that "action at this time might appear to some to be merely a strategic maneuver designed to influence congressional action," referring to the House Commerce Committee's just concluded inquiry into the cigarette labeling act.

The last witness Thursday was Robert B. Meyner, director of the cigarette industry's advertising code, who said past performances by the Federal Trade Commission raise questions about letting it have broader authority in the field.

The FTC has served notice it wants to toughen warnings on cigarette packages and extend it to advertising.

The Federal Communications Commission also has suggested a ban on radio and television advertising of cigarettes.

Both are contingent, however, on Congress turning loose this authority. The agencies, and states as well, are pre-empted by present law from making any changes in cigarette advertising. This section, however, expires on June 30.

The tobacco industry wants to extend the pre-emption on an indefinite basis, thus thwarting the agency proposals, and also wants to keep the present warning that smoking may be a health hazard on the pack unchanged.

Meyner said the cigarette industry's review board looked over some 24,143 advertising submissions and 1,815 were disapproved or withdrawn.

Rep. Harley O. Staggers, D-W. Va., committee chairman, said it would be some time before his unit begins to reach the stage of deciding what action to take.

The television and advertising industries have a large economic stake in the outcome of the controversy. Nearly $240 million was spent on television ads last year by the cigarette industry.

However, some independent television groups have dropped all cigarette advertising. They were joined Thursday by a major metropolitan newspaper, the Boston Globe, which announced it would accept no more cigarette ads.

The Gobe and the Christian Science Monitor are the only major daily newspapers to have such a ban.

Reception Will Honor Minister And Family

LISBON — Members of the Lisbon Church of the Nazarene will hold an open reception at 7:30 p.m. Saturday in Mt. Nebo Grange for their new minister and his family.

The Rev. Max M. Snider, formerly pastor of the West Acres Nazarene Church in Dayton, will conduct his first service here Sunday.

Mrs. Snider, daughter Jill, 10, and son Craig, 9, will move into the parsonage after school is out. Mrs. Snider teaches in Dayton and has been employed to teach here next school year.

Rev. Snider succeeds the Rev. Jerry Painter, who resigned in March to become administrator of the Christ Evangelist Center and Home for the Aged in Indianapolis.

State Insurance Commissioner Samuel H. Weese said his office is waiting for IRB statistics on the proposal. "We have statistics of our own to consider," Weese said.

For fairly short distances, up to one mile, ice skates are faster than roller skates. For longer distances, such as two miles or five miles, roller skates are faster because they require less stamina to maintain speed.

Many Residents Will Vote Twice, And Legally, Too

Many East Liverpool residents will vote twice on Tuesday — and legally, too.

By coincidence, the municipal primary election and the general election of the International Brotherhood of Operative Potters fall on the same date.

City residents, in many instances, will be able to vote in a party primary to help nominate municipal officials and then cast ballots for election of 12 international officers of the IBOP.

The IBOP'S interest will center on election of a new president to replace E. L. Wheatley, who did not seek a new term. Potters here and throughout the U.S. and parts of Canada will choose between Floyd Jividen of Newell, a kiln fireman, and Lester H. Null of East Liverpool, now international third vice president.

The IBOP nominees were picked at a primary in March. The union also will choose a secretary - treasurer and 10 vice presidents. Since local unions report election results by mail, the IBOP expects the final returns will be available the week following the balloting.

The generally - accepted accuracy rating of weather predictions is 87 per cent.

Q.—How can I clean stained gloves?

A.—Ordinary cleaning fluid is usually a good answer, but if none is at hand, use cuticle remover.

Q.—What is an easy method of removing ink stains from the fingers?

A.—Just dip an old toothbrush into vinegar, then into salt, and scrub the stains away.

Man, 22, Convicted In Mail Bomb Case

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Orville E. Stifel II, a former Cincinnati laboratory technician, was convicted by a U.S. District Court jury Thursday of mailing a bomb that killed a Lorain teacher, his rival in a college romance.

However, Stifel, 22, escaped the death penalty when the jury of seven men and five women recommended life imprisonment.

Stifel was charged with mailing the bomb that killed Daniel J. Ronec, 23, in his home at Lorain last July 8.

His lawyer, William "Foss" Hopkins, was not in court when the verdict was returned, but Hopkins' assistant, Peter Pandilidis, said he would try to get a retrial.

Youth Fined For Walking On Freeway

A district youth found walking along the Freeway and a Baltimore woman who hitchhiked a ride in an Ohio Highway Patrol cruiser were penalized by County Judge Barry Dickson at East Palestine Thursday.

Gary Greathouse, 19, of East Liverpool RD 4 was cited by the Patrol for violating regulations prohibiting walking on the Freeway.

He was observed by a patrolman just north of the city. When the cruiser approached him, he vaulted a fence and fled. He was apprehended later on a side road. Judge Dickson fined him $20 and costs.

Penny Hunt, 34, of Baltimore, Md., hitchhiked a ride from a passing patrolman, contrary to law prohibiting soliciting rides. She was fined $25 and costs, with the penalty suspended.

James E. Bloor, 22, of 95 High St., Leetonia, was sentenced to jail after he was found guilty of contempt of court.

Bloor was found guilty March 22 of operating an unsafe vehicle and ordered to pay a $15 fine and costs before April 7. He did not pay and a bench warrant was issued for his arrest. He was taken before the judge, who ordered him to jail in lieu of payment of the fine.

Mississippi's Crest Waited At St. Louis

By The Associated Press

The Mississippi River rolled toward a crest today at St. Louis, but Army engineers indicated the peak would be only slightly above flood stage and only minor lowland flooding was expected.

A similar appraisal was given for Saturday when waters of the Missouri River, which empties into the Mississippi just above St. Louis, were expected to create a second crest there.

Melting snows in the northern Midwest and Plains pushed the Mississippi and Missouri tributaries out of their banks in Iowa, the Dakotas, Minnesota and Wisconsin last month and caused millions of dollars in damage. On the Illinois side of the Mississippi, dikes and the natural terrain were high enough to prevent major flooding.

President Nixon declared Wisconsin a major disaster area Thursday and allocated $500,000 in federal aid to restore areas ravaged by the Mississippi.

In Minot, N.D., about 2,000 residents returned to homes they evacuated when waters of the Souris River spilled over the town last month. However, another 10,000 or more persons still were waiting for the Souris to recede.

Damage from flooding in the Minot area has been estimated by Army engineers at more than $10 million.

2-Deck Light Seen Factor In Car Crash

An auto was damaged heavily and its driver was injured slightly in a collision early this morning at one of the few intersections in East Liverpool still controlled by an outmoded two - deck traffic light.

The crash at E. 4th and Washington Sts. at 12:11 involved an eastbound 1965 sedan driven by Norma A. Allen, 41, of 930 Bradshaw Ave. and a southbound 1963 model imported sdan operated by Donald C. Menough, 26, of 805 Alton St.

Menough suffered a scratch on his head and complained of a back injury. He went to City Hospital for treatment.

Each driver told police the light was changing when they approached the intersection, but they proceeded. A two - deck signal shows only green and red lighs, with no amber warning of impending change. As the light is changing, it shows both red and green lights briefly.

The Menough auto was termed a possible total loss, with heavy damage to the right side and the windshield broken. The left front fender and hood of the Allen car were damaged.

A drifting auto broke a plate glass window Thursday afternoon in the north side of the Dairy Isle building on St. Clair Ave., owned by Ralph Yanni of 2800 St. Clair Ave., police reported.

Rachel I. Mobley, 27, of 1300 Jennings Ave. told officers she parked her 1969 coupe near the building about 2 and alighted. Then the car drifted forward and hit the window. The car was not damaged.

A collision on Pennsylvania Ave. near Dewey Ave. Thursday at 3:20 p. m. involved a 1968 sedan driven by Faye Burlingame, 25, of 1900 Michigan Ave. and a 1962 sedan operated by Willie Cook, 51, of 716 Pennsylvania Ave.

Both cars were traveling east when the Burlingame auto halted for a line of traffic and was hit from the rear by Cook's car, police said. Cook was cited on a charge of failure to stop in the assured clear distance.

2-Deck Light Seen Factor In Car Crash

An auto was damaged heavily and its driver was injured slightly in a collision early this morning at one of the few intersections in East Liverpool still controlled by an outmoded two - deck traffic light.

The crash at E. 4th and Washington Sts. at 12:11 involved an eastbound 1965 sedan driven by Norma A. Allen, 41, of 930 Bradshaw Ave. and a southbound 1963 model imported sdan operated by Donald C. Menough, 26, of 805 Alton St.

Menough suffered a scratch on his head and complained of a back injury. He went to City Hospital for treatment.

Each driver told police the light was changing when they approached the intersection, but they proceeded. A two - deck signal shows only green and red ighs, with no amber warning of impending change. As the light is changing, it shows both red and green lights briefly.

The Menough auto was termed a possible total loss, with heavy damage to the right side and the windshield broken. The left front fender and hood of the Allen car were damaged.

A drifting auto broke a plate glass window Thursday afternoon in the north side of the Dairy Isle building on St. Clair Ave., owned by Ralph Yanni of 2800 St. Clair Ave., police reported.

Rachel I. Mobley, 27, of 1300 Jennings Ave. told officers she parked her 1969 coupe near the building about 2 and alighted. Then the car drifted forward and hit the window. The car was not damaged.

A collision on Pennsylvania Ave. near Dewey Ave. Thursday at 3:20 p. m. involved a 1968 sedan driven by Faye Burlingame, 25, of 1900 Michigan Ave. and a 1962 sedan operated by Willie Cook, 51, of 716 Pennsylvania Ave.

Both cars were traveling east when the Burlingame auto halted for a line of traffic and was hit from the rear by Cook's car, police said. Cook was cited on a charge of failure to stop in the assured clear distance.

Boy Bitten By Spider 'Deteriorates' More

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Babies and Childrens Hospital spokesmen said today that there had been "some further deterioration" in the already very critical condition of 5-year-old Todd Quester of Amherst.

The Lorain County boy, believed to have been bitten by a brown recluse spider April 18, has been in a coma since shortly after his admission to the hospital two days later.

The first U. S. vice president to be nominated specifically for that office was George Clinton, who ran with Thomas Jefferson in the 1804 election.

Von Papen, Hitler Aide, Dies At 89

OBERSASBACH, Germany (AP) — Former Chancellor Franz von Papen, who helped pave Hitler's way to power and later won acquittal at the Nuernberg war crimes trials, died today, his son reported. He was 89 years old.

Von Papen became seriously ill early in April. His son said the illness was aggravated by his advanced age. He died at his secluded home in this Baden village.

Von Papen, regarded as something of a lightweight in the German politics of the early 1930s, was as responsible as any one man for bringing Adolf Hitler to power, though that probably was not what he meant to do.

In a chaotic political situation in June 1932, President Paul von Hindenburg appointed Von Papen chancellor. But he resigned that fall after elections showed Hitler's Nazi had made great gains, though still not enough for a Reichstag majority.

The Nazis were nearly bankrupt then, and Von Papen arranged a meeting of Hitler and Baron Kurt von Schroeder, a Cologne banker, apparently with the idea of putting Hitler and the Nazis in his debt.

ANN LANDERS

'Rock' Hearing Hazard

By Ann Landers

Dear Ann Landers: Last night my 16-year-old granddaughter gave a party. There were at least 3 teen-agers in the house. They rolled back the rugs, moved all the furniture on the porch and played music for dancing.

I didn't see any dancing — just some catatonic, zombie-like motions and a lot of jerking and shaking.

What disturbed me more than anything was the music. It gave me a splitting headache. turning up the stereo amplifier as high as it will go. It virtually assaults the eardrums.

I notice that our teen-age grandchildren do not hear their parents when they speak in normal conversational tones. Unless instructions are screamed they are ignored. I think the kids are actually deaf. My husband says, "There's nothing wrong with their hearing. They hear when they want to."

Tell me, Ann, is it possible that our teen-agers are becoming hard of haring because of the loud music they seem to idolize? If so, someone should tell them. — ANTIQUE ADA.

Dear Ada: Someone HAS told them. Ear specialists are deeply concerned and have said so. It has been proved that loud music produces serious hearing problems among the young. Several cases of permanent deafness among musicians have been noted. So take heed, kids, and turn down the volume. Do you hear me out there? I SAY — TURN DOWN THE VOLUME!!.

Broken Hearted

Dear Ann: My mother is 53 and looks 40. After Dad died two years ago Mum started to go with a divorced man who is about five years her junior. Barry is handsome, charming, allergic to work in any form and, in my opinion, rotten to the core.

I've seen Barry around town with at least three different chippes. Of course, I've never mentioned it to anyone. About a month ago Mum and I ran into Barry and a trollop, or should I say THEY ran into us. Literally.

I was parking the car and Barry's car sideswept us. No one was hurt but Mom fell apart when she saw them (Barry was supposed to be out of town.)

Snce that night Mum has had stomach pains and has been doctoring to beat the band. She's had X-rays, is taking pills and sedatives and is on a special diet. Her doctor can't find anything wrong with her. I know she's tied up in knots over her love affair which is going haywire.

Should I make an appointment to see the doctor and tell him the background before she quits him and goes to another doctor who might take out her gall bladder? — WORRIED DAUGHTER.

Dear Daughter: It is extremely helpful to the physician if he knows something about the patient's emotional problems. I suggest that you write the doctor a note. An appointment would take up valuable time which could be spent with a patient.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, inclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Be Careful, Your Vote on the School Levies Could Cost the City School System $1,353,628 in State Funds.

(53.7% of the total operating Budget.)

It's up to you. If the 12-Mill Renewal Levies fail to pass, the school system will lose $1,353,628 in state funds — Over half the operating budget. And this is money already paid out of your pocket, which will not be returned by the state unless the levies are renewed.

The Renewal Levies do not represent an increase in taxes.

The question you will vote on May 6, is whether or not to continue the school levies as they stand now.

ANN LANDERS

'Rock' Hearing Hazard

By Ann Landers

Dear Ann Landers: Last night my 16-year-old granddaughter gave a party. There were at least 3 teen-agers in the house. They rolled back the rugs, moved all the furniture on the porch and played music for dancing.

I didn't see any dancing — just some catatonic, zombie-like motions and a lot of jerking and shaking.

What disturbed me more than anything was the music. It gave me a splitting headache. turning up the stereo amplifier as high as it will go. It virtually assaults the eardrums.

I notice that our teen-age grandchildren do not hear their parents when they speak in normal conversational tones. Unless instructions are screamed they are ignored. I think the kids are actually deaf. My husband says, "There's nothing wrong with their hearing. They hear when they want to."

Tell me, Ann, is it possible that our teen-agers are becoming hard of haring because of the loud music they seem to idolize? If so, someone should tell them. — ANTIQUE ADA.

Dear Ada: Someone HAS told them. Ear specialists are deeply concerned and have said so. It has been proved that loud music produces serious hearing problems among the young. Several cases of permanent deafness among musicians have been noted. So take heed, kids, and turn down the volume. Do you hear me out there? I SAY — TURN DOWN THE VOLUME!!.

Broken Hearted

Dear Ann: My mother is 53 and looks 40. After Dad died two years ago Mum started to go with a divorced man who is about five years her junior. Barry is handsome, charming, allergic to work in any form and, in my opinion, rotten to the core.

I've seen Barry around town with at least three different chippes. Of course, I've never mentioned it to anyone. About a month ago Mum and I ran into Barry and a trollop, or should I say THEY ran into us. Literally.

I was parking the car and Barry's car sideswept us. No one was hurt but Mom fell apart when she saw them (Barry was supposed to be out of town.)

Snce that night Mum has had stomach pains and has been doctoring to beat the band. She's had X-rays, is taking pills and sedatives and is on a special diet. Her doctor can't find anything wrong with her. I know she's tied up in knots over her love affair which is going haywire.

Should I make an appointment to see the doctor and tell him the background before she quits him and goes to another doctor who might take out her gall bladder? — WORRIED DAUGHTER.

Dear Daughter: It is extremely helpful to the physician if he knows something about the patient's emotional problems, I suggest that you write the doctor a note. An appointment would take up valuable time which could be spent with a patient.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, inclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Pitt assistant coach Serafino (Fodge) Fazio, speaker at the Western Beaver banquet Wednesday night, reported that the injury to East Liverpool's Chuck Winters is not serious.

Winter's was injured in the spring intra-squad game Saturday. "He just got a helmet in the ribs", Fazio said. He added that Winters is passing well, but noted that Dave Havern, who missed the intra-squad game with an injury, is still regarded as the number one quarterback at Pitt.

DON WILSON

Astros' Wilson No-Hits Reds

By ROBERT MOORE
Associated Press Sports Writer

Pitcher Don Wilson of the struggling Houston Astros rubbed shoulders with baseball's elite for the second time in his career today all because of bitterness toward the Cincinnati Reds and a burning desire to get even.

Wilson blazed his right-handed slants past the Reds Thursday night for a brilliant no-hit, 4-0 victory and then said bluntly:

"I don't like them.

"I wanted to pay them back for what they did to us when they beat me 14-0" on April 22 at Houston's Astrodome. "They stuck out their tongues at us. They laughed at us.

"They embarrassed us . . . I was pretty strongly motivated not only for the win but to get the no-hitter. I wanted to prove to them we are professionals, too."

It was the second no-hitter at Cincinnati's Crosley Field in 24 hours. Only Wednesday night, the Reds' Jim Maloney had blanked the Astros—on hits and runs—10-0.

Wilson's performance took the spotlight quickly off of the Los Angeles Dodgers' Don Sutton, who in an afternoon game at San Francisco just missed a no-hitter when Jim Davenport doubled for the lone Giants hit with one out in the eighth. The Dodgers won 5-0. In other NL games, Montreal nipped New York 3-2, St. Louis clobbered Pittsburgh 9-3 and San Diego edged Atlanta 4-3

Wilson said Thursday night's no-hitter gave him "more personal satisfaction than my first one in Atlanta" as a rookie two years ago. He struck out 13 batters, walked six and hit one.

Only two Reds reached second. Johnny Bench walked and stole second in the second inning. Wilson walked pinch hitter Jim Stewart and Pete Rose in the eighth.

"I'm not a Don Wilson fan. I don't think many of our guys think much of Wilson either."

Astros Manager Harry Walker paused to compare the performances of both Wilson and Maloney.

"My man had a rougher time of it," Walker said, "because he was under pressure all the way. He had not won on the road this year, and he did not have a big lead like Maloney."

Doug Rader put Wilson ahead in the fourth with a home run. Dennis Menke's double scored two more runs in the fifth. The Astros got their last run in the eighth on Curt Blefary's triple and Wilson's sacrifice fly. Wilson's record now is 2-3.

Wintersville Foe In Finals Today

Bill Montgomery, settling down after a shaky start, pitched a four-hitter as East Liverpool downed Jefferson Union 5-1 at Belleview last night to advance to the finals of the Steubenville sectional baseball tournament.

The Potters will meet Wintersville, a 14-13 winner over Steubenville, at Pleasant Heights at 4 p.m. today.

East Liverpool trailed 1-0 after three innings. Cecil Barker opened the second with a single, scored on a hit by Sapp. Montgomery yielded three hits in the first 1 1-3 innings, but gave up only one more hit after that, a single to Barker in the seventh. Barker was erased in a double play and Montgomery had a pick-off of Larkins, who walked in the fifth, so the Yellowjackets left no one on after the second.

The Potters finally got to Stine in the fourth. Randy McVay and John Haney singled and Jim Massey was safe on a fielders choice, with one run scoring. J. T. Cunningham singled for a second run and Tom Chambers added a hit to make it 3-0. In the fifth Montgomery doubled and scored on a hit by Haney. The Potters closed out the scoring in the sixth when Cunningham singled, Chambers walked and Kim Kemple singled.

Coach Jim Potts is undecided on his pitching plans for today. McVay, Kemple or Jim Musuraca, who won Wednesday, are possibilities.

Freehan Hits Key Homer

McLain Blanks Orioles; Twins Keep Winning

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

Denny McLain and Dave Boswell are walking around with lumps on their heads today. It only hurts when they laugh.

McLain tossed three hitless innings against Baltimore Thursday night before trying to field Boog Powell's comeback bouncer with his forehead. It went for a single, but the Detroit ace shook off the cobwebs and yielded just two more hits as the Tigers beat the Orioles 2-0 on Bill Freehan's homer.

Boswell, his eye blackened and knee bruised from a scuffle with a fan the previous day, pitched five strong innings before giving way to reliever Joe Grzenda as the Minnesota Twins trimmed Seattle 4-1 in an afternoon game for their sixth straight victory.

McLain, who brought his record to 4-3 in a tight duel with previously unbeaten Jim Palmer, accepted his bump on the noggin in typical good humor. "It stunned me, that's all," said the 1968 American League MVP. "If it hits my glove, I've got it. They call me 'Hot Hands.'"

Boswell, roughed up by the unidentified spectator after Wednesday's game against the Pilots, was understandably, a little less cheerful after his gutsy pitching effort for the streaking Twins.

He said the fan walked up to him and hit him on the head. When he asked for an apology, about five others tried to get at him.

"It was a free-for-all . . . on me," said the Minnesota right-hander, who was rescued by teammates Cesar Tovar and John Roseboro. "It bothers me when a guy like that comes up to you and treats you like an animal."

Boswell brightened when asked about Thursday's victory. "Joe (Grzenda) did his thing. Everybody did their thing," he said.

In other AL games, California nipped Oakland 3-2 in 10 innings; Kansas City edged the Chicago White Sox 5-4 in 12; Washington got past Boston 7-6 and Cleveland downed the New York Yankees 6-2.

McLain, beaten by the high-flying Orioles at Baltimore eight days ago, struck out six, walked one and won the return match in one hour and 49 minutes.

"I didn't have good stuff in Baltimore, but here I had real good stuff," said the stocky right-hander, who topped the majors with 31 victories a year ago.

Palmer, 3-1, allowed two hits before leaving for a pinch hitter in the eighth, but one of them was Freehan's fifth homer, a two-run shot in the fifth. It was the 99th career clout for the big Detroit catcher.

Boswell limited the Pilots to three hits, including a homer by Wayne Comer, before his banged-up left knee forced him out of the game. Grzenda came on to complete a five-hitter and wrap up Boswell's third victory in five decisions.

Rookie Charlie Manuel delivered two Minnesota runs with a third inning single and a bases-loaded walk in the fifth.

Oakland reliever Lew Krausse filled the bases on two walks and a single in the 10th inning, then nicked Tom Satriano with a pitch, forcing in the winning run. The Athletics had tied the game in the ninth on Reggie Jackson's two-run homer.

Oakland's Rick Monday, who had equaled Lou Gehrig's AL record of RBI in 10 consecutive games, was shut out by Rudy May and winner Hoyt Wilhelm. Monday went 0-for-3 and never batted with a runner on base.

Joe Foy's run-scoring single in the 12th sent the Royals past Chicago, extending the White Sox' losing string to four games. The Royals caught the Sox in the ninth, when Jack Hernandez singled, took second on left fielder Carlos May's bobble and scored the tying run on a two-out single by pinch hitter Bob Taylor.

May and Don Pavletich homered for the White Sox.

The Indians, held hitless by Stan Bahnsen for six innings, clipped him for two runs in the seventh, then broke loose for four runs against Steve Hamilton in the ninth. Duke Sims' three-run homer capped the burst.

Celtics Fall 117-104

Lakers Win, Lead 3-2; West Pulls Leg Muscle

By JACK STEVENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Los Angeles Lakers head to Boston leading the National Basketball Association championship playoffs 3-2 but with their sharpest shooter, Jerry West, injured.

After scoring 39 points in the Lakers' 117-104 triumph at The Forum on Thursday night, West limped from the floor with a pulled left hamstring muscle.

"I'm sure when I wake up Saturday morning, I'll know if I can play or not," said Jerry after undergoing initial treatment.

The sixth game of the best-of-seven series goes at the Boston Garden at 5 p.m. EDT, Saturday afternoon. Without West, who has been averaging 39.6 against the Celtics, the Laker offense loses its zing, and Los Angeles must win once more to take the title.

"I was stretching and Emmette Bryant bumped me," was the way West described the injury. "You only pull a muscle by stretching it, not by getting hit by somebody."

Also injured, but not so seriously, was 7-foot-2 Wilt Chamberlain who suffered a bruised eye when he was hit, also by Bryant.

Chamberlain was hurt in the third period, but returned after a minute's rest.

"Things were blurry for the rest of the game," asserted the big guy who hauled down 31 rebounds while his arch-foe Bill Russell could grab but 13.

Coach Bill Van Breda Koff made a lineup switch when he sent Keith Erirkson in at a starting forward spot, primarily to check John Havlicek, the Celtic's scoring star.

Havlicek scored only six points through three periods although winding up with 18. When Erickson would leave, Tom Hawkins came in to handle the guarding assignment.

"I made up my mind to start Erickson after the Tuesday night game," the coach said. In that 89-88 Laker loss in Boston, Erickson didn't allow Havlicek a field goal in the final period.

"If West can't play Saturday, Keith will go to the back court," Van Breda Kolff added.

Boston led 24-23 at the end of the first quarter before the 17,553 fans, but the Lakers rallied in the second and pulled ahead at 49-45.

Perhaps the most important play came midway in the third when West drove in to score on a reverse layup and draw a foul from Russell, the fourth for the player-coach, who had to go cautiously from then on.

Russell refused cmment but Havlicek said, "we were hurt because we were double teaming a lot and the open man was scoring, sometimes Egan, sometimes Erickson. I just didn't have a good shooting night early in the game. Sam Jones and Larry Siegfried were shooting well, so I didn't take as many shots as I might have normally."

Egan, the running mate for West in the back court, scored 23 points while Erickson tallied 16.

Jones paced Boston with 25 while Siegfried tallied 20.

E. Liverpool Golfers Set Record Low

The East Liverpool High golf team set a school record for low score yesterday, firing a 138 at Atwood Lake Golf Club.

The previously record was 148, set three years ago. The record at East Liverpool Country Club is 157.

The record came in a 138-181 whipping of Carrollton and boosted the Potter record to 12-2. The Potters recorded 10 birdies.

Bob Kinsey was medalist with a par 33. Bill McHenry and Ralph Heffner had 34s and Ken Johnson a 37. Rick Smith led the losers with a 39, Bob Brants had a 45, Bryan McBean a 46 and Dave Hills a 51.

Freehan Hits Key Homer

McLain Blanks Orioles; Twins Keep Winning

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

Denny McLain and Dave Boswell are walking around with lumps on their heads today. It only hurts when they laugh.

McLain tossed three hitless innings against Baltimore Thursday night before trying to field Boog Powell's comeback bouncer with his forehead. It went for a single, but the Detroit ace shook off the cobwebs and yielded just two more hits as the Tigers beat the Orioles 2-0 on Bill Freehan's homer.

Boswell, his eye blackened and knee bruised from a scuffle with a fan the previous day, pitched five strong innings before giving way to reliever Joe Grzenda as the Minnesota Twins trimmed Seattle 4-1 in an afternoon game for their sixth straight victory.

McLain, who brought his record to 4-3 in a tight duel with previously unbeaten Jim Palmer, accepted his bump on the noggin in typical good humor. "It stunned me, that's all," said the 1968 American League MVP. "If it hits my glove, I've got it. They call me 'Hot Hands.'"

Boswell, roughed up by the unidentified spectator after Wednesday's game against the Pilots, was understandably, a little less cheerful after his gutsy pitching effort for the streaking Twins.

He said the fan walked up to him and hit him on the head. When he asked for an apology, about five others tried to get at him.

"It was a free-for-all ... on me," said the Minnesota right-hander, who was rescued by teammates Cesar Tovar and John Roseboro. "It bothers me when a guy like that comes up to you and treats you like an animal."

Boswell brightened when asked about Thursday's victory. "Joe (Grzenda) did his thing. Everybody did their thing," he said.

In other AL games, California nipped Oakland 3-2 in 10 innings; Kansas City edged the Chicago White Sox 5-4 in 12; Washington got past Boston 7-6 and Cleveland downed the New York Yankees 6-2.

McLain, beaten by the high-flying Orioles at Baltimore eight days ago, struck out six, walked one and won the return match in one hour and 49 minutes.

"I didn't have good stuff in Baltimore, but here I had real good stuff," said the stocky right-hander, who topped the majors with 31 victories a year ago.

Palmer, 3-1, allowed two hits before leaving for a pinch hitter in the eighth, but one of them was Freehan's fifth homer, a two-run shot in the fifth. It was the 99th career clout for the big Detroit catcher.

Boswell limited the Pilots to three hits, including a homer by Wayne Comer, before his banged-up left knee forced him out of the game. Grzenda came on to complete a five-hitter and wrap up Boswell's third victory in five decisions.

Rookie Charlie Manuel delivered two Minnesota runs with a third inning single and a bases-loaded walk in the fifth.

Oakland reliever Lew Krausse filled the bases on two walks and a single in the 10th inning, then nicked Tom Satriano with a pitch, forcing in the winning run. The Athletics had tied the game in the ninth on Reggie Jackson's two-run homer.

Oakland's Rick Monday, who had equaled Lou Gehrig's AL record of RBI in 10 consecutive games, was shut out by Rudy May and winner Hoyt Wilhelm. Monday went 0-for-3 and never batted with a runner on base.

Joe Foy's run-scoring single in the 12th sent the Royals past Chicago, extending the White Sox' losing string to four games. The Royals caught the Sox in the ninth, when Jack Hernandez singled, took second on left fielder Carlos May's bobble and scored the tying run on a two-out single by pinch hitter Bob Taylor.

May and Don Pavletich homered for the White Sox.

The Indians, held hitless by Stan Bahnsen for six innings, clipped him for two runs in the seventh, then broke loose for four runs against Steve Hamilton in the ninth. Duke Sims' three-run homer capped the burst.

Beaver Local edged Southern Local 3-2 in a Buckeye Border Conference game at Beaver Local yesterday, as Scott Dubberly had three hits and scored all three runs for the winners.

Bruce Diddle picked up the win, his first of the year, in relief of Ralph Wolfand. Bob Diehl went the distance to take the loss.

Dubberly led off the first with a single, stole second and third and scored on a balk. In the fourth he doubled and scored on an outfield overthrow on the play. In the seventh he singled, stole second and scored on a hit by Rick Sheppard.

Southern got both its markers in the fourth when Terry Kellison singled, Roger Jones was safe on an error by Bob Flint, both runners moved up on a passed ball, and another error by Flint on Diehl's grounder let both runners score.

Celtics Fall 117-104

Lakers Win, Lead 3-2; West Pulls Leg Muscle

By JACK STEVENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Los Angeles Lakers head to Boston leading the National Basketball Association championship playoffs 3-2 but with their sharpest shooter, Jerry West, injured.

After scoring 39 points in the Lakers' 117-104 triumph at The Forum on Thursday night, West limped from the floor with a pulled left hamstring muscle.

"I'm sure when I wake up Saturday morning, I'll know if I can play or not," said Jerry after undergoing initial treatment.

The sixth game of the best-of-seven series goes at the Boston Garden at 5 p.m. EDT, Saturday afternoon. Without West, who has been averaging 39.6 against the Celtics, the Laker offense loses its zing, and Los Angeles must win once more to take the title.

"I was stretching and Emmette Bryant bumped me," was the way West described the injury. "You only pull a muscle by stretching it, not by getting hit by somebody."

Also injured, but not so seriously, was 7-foot-2 Wilt Chamberlain who suffered a bruised eye when he was hit, also by Bryant.

Chamberlain was hurt in the third period, but returned after a minute's rest.

"Things were blurry for the rest of the game," asserted the big guy who hauled down 31 rebounds while his arch-foe Bill Russell could grab but 13.

Coach Bill Van Breda Koff made a lineup switch when he sent Keith Erirkson in at a starting forward spot, primarily to check John Havlicek, the Celtic's scoring star.

Havlicek scored only six points through three periods although winding up with 18. When Erickson would leave, Tom Hawkins came in to handle the guarding assignment.

"I made up my mind to start Erickson after the Tuesday night game," the coach said. In that 89-88 Laker loss in Boston, Erickson didn't allow Havlicek a field goal in the final period.

"If West can't play Saturday, Keith will go to the back court," Van Breda Kolff added.

Boston led 24-23 at the end of the first quarter before the 17,553 fans, but the Lakers rallied in the second and pulled ahead at 49-45.

Perhaps the most important play came midway in the third when West drove in to score on a reverse layup and draw a foul from Russell, the fourth for the player-coach, who had to go cautiously from then on.

Russell refused comment but Havlicek said, "we were hurt because we were double teaming a lot and the open man was scoring, sometimes Egan, sometimes Erickson. I just didn't have a good shooting night early in the game. Sam Jones and Larry Siegfried were shooting well, so I didn't take as many shots as I might have normally."

Egan, the running mate for West in the back court, scored 23 points while Erickson tallied 16.

Jones paced Boston with 25 while Siegfried tallied 20.

E. Liverpool Golfers Set Record Low

The East Liverpool High golf team set a school record for low score yesterday, firing a 138 at Atwood Lake Golf Club.

The previously record was 148, set three years ago. The record at East Liverpool Country Club is 157.

The record came in a 138-181 whipping of Carrollton and boosted the Potter record to 12-2. The Potters recorded 10 birdies.

Bob Kinsey was medalist with a par 33. Bill McHenry and Ralph Heffner had 34s and Ken Johnson a 37. Rick Smith led the losers with a 39, Bob Brants had a 45, Bryan McBean a 46 and Dave Hills a 51.

Majestic Prince Derby Pick

By BOB COOPER
Associated Press Sports Writer

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Four thoroughbred champions and four pretenders to glory got their final grooming today for the 95th running of the Kentucky Derby.

The field of eight, one of them a potential scratch, is the smallest in 21 years and, most fans believe, the strongest in a far longer time.

Majestic Prince, the unbeaten and untried king of the West Coast, has been tabbed as the probable betting favorite in the 1¼-mile Run for the Roses that goes to the post at 5:30 p.m. EDT, Saturday.

Flying the colors of Canadian oil millionaire Frank McMahon, the $250,000 yearling purchase has mowed down 47 opponents in seven races, all of them except his first and last at Santa Anite.

Majestic Prince would be the odds-on choice to cop the $25,000-added Derby except for three things. Their names are Top Knight, Dike and Arts and Letters.

Top Knight has finished first in three of four races this year, although he was disqualified to third in the Bahamas stakes. His only drawback is a five-week layoff since his Florida Derby victory.

"If you've only got one good suit, you don't wear it very often," trainer Ray Metcalf said in explaining the sparse racing schedule of the chestnut colt he trains for the Steven B. Wilson estate.

"Top Knight is my only good suit," he chuckled.

Claiborne Farm's Dike, a late-charging son of French Derby champion Herbager, ran poorly in Florida when he was asked for too much too soon, but prompted new hope in victories in New York's Gotham and Wood Memorial.

Arts and Letters, the Virginia-bred property Paul Mellon's Rokeby Stable, was a bridesmaid in the Flamingo, Fountain of Youth and Florida Derby, but took center stage with a 15-length victory in the Blue Grass Stakes last week at Keeneland.

So evenly matched are the Big Four that track handicapper John Battaglia made Majestic Prince the probable 6-5 betting favorite, then turned around and picked Dike as the program choice.

Challenging the four before an estimated crowd of 100,000 are Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Harris, Rae Jet, Leo Miller's Ocean Roar, Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Roberts' Traffic Mark and the Kanowsky syndicate's Fleet Allied.

Rae Jet also was entered in a pair of lesser races Saturday, giving his owners chance to change their minds and save the $1,000 due Saturday for each Derby starter.

Arkansas Derby winner Traffic Mark drew the No. 2 post with Arts and Letters, with jockey Braulio Baeza substituting for the injured Bill Shoemaker, in No. 3.

Duff Scores Twice

Canadiens Blank Blues, Take 3-0 Series Lead

By CHARLIE BAROUH
Associated Press Sports Writer

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The Montreal Canadiens didn't waste any time Thursday night in moving closer to their 14th Stanley Cup by whipping the St. Louis Blues 4-0.

The victory gave Montreal a 3-0 lead in the National Hockey League's best-of-7 series.

Dick Duff is one of the most impatient of the Canadiens. He doesn't see patience as a virtue on the ice.

"Especially when you're a couple of games up, it's easy to relax and then twice as hard to get back in stride," Duff said after scoring two goals and adding an assist against the outclassed Blues.

"We knew we'd have to start strong tonight and then when they had that goal by Frank St. Marseille called back in the first period, I think it took some of the steam out of them," he added.

St. Marseille's goal was disallowed because referee John Asheley said he kicked it in past Montreal goalie Rogatien Vachon. Vachon went on to forge the first playoff shutout of his career.

But the loss of the goal wasn't what bothered St. Louis Coach Scotty Bowman most. The goal would have helped, Bowman agreed, but not enough considering the way the Blues played.

"I think they (the Canadiens) are having too easy a time. Our passing is real bad. We passed better than that all year," Bowman complained.

"Anytime we carried puck we were a lot better. Everything was a split second off, the passing, the shooting. I don't know why."

Serve Savard of Montreal blasted a low line drive past the Blues' goalie, Jacques Plante, midway through the first period. Duff set him up on that one.

Then after Jacques Lemaire made it 2-0 early in the second period, Duff added a goal in each of the final two periods.

Montreal's big Jean Beliveau summed it up for the Canadiens:

"We didn't give them much chance tonight. We were skating on top of them and didn't let them get organized."

Scorecard Mix-Up Costs Bears Match

A scorecard signed with the wrong score cost Oak Glen a golf match yesterday.

John Carson shot a 42, but recorded a 43 and signed the card. This threw the Golden Bears into a 176-176 tie with Wellsburg and the Orange Knights won a playoff 19-20 on the first hole to take the match.

Bob Glass led Oak Glen with a 41. Jim Szymanek had a 45, Mike Abrams a 47 and Jerry Martin a 55. George Lachmanek had a 41, Randy Fryer and Larry Thompson 45s and Marty Cheeks and Bruce Miller 46s for Wellsburg. The low four in each team played the first extra hole, a par 4 at Highland Springs.

Oak Glen is 2-5 on the year.

Big League Bowlers Set Banquet Monday

The Big Leagoe bowling banquet will be held May 5 at 7 p.m. at American Legion Post 70 in Wellsville in honor the S&S Bar team, which won the title in a roll-off over Chester VFW 2,729-2,721.

Blue Dons Nip Oak Glen 5-4 In Eighth

Weirton Madonna rallied for three runs in the last of the sixth to tie the game and then scored in the eighth to hand Oak Glen a 5-4 setback at Weirton yesterday.

The loss was the fifth straight after an opening win for the Golden Bears. Craig Whittington took the loss and George Vargo was the winner.

Gill homered in the first for the winners and Greco added a triple, but didn't score. Oak Glen took the lead in the second when Frank Amedeo walked, Whittington was safe on an error, Matt Proctor doubled home Amedeo and Whittington scored on a passed ball. In the third Vic Reed singled, stole second, was sacrified to third and scored on a hit by Amedeo. Oak Glen completed its soring in the sixth when Whittington, who had two hits, singled and forced by Al Still, who sored on an error. Gary Masters had a triple for the Golden Bears, but it was wasted.

In the last of the eighth Vargo tripled and Avoli singled him home with the winning run.

Zarley, Elder Share Lead At N. Orleans

By BEN THOMAS
Associated Press Sports Write

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Weightlifting may be just dandy for Gary Player but Kermit Zarley isn't so sure if it's "my thing."

Zarley, coming out of a four-month long slump he thinks may have been caused by a strenuous weight-lifting program he went through during the winter, fired a six-under par 66 Thursday. He shared the first-round lead in the $100,000 Greater New Orleans Open Golf Tournament with Lee Elder.

It was a shaky lead, however, with a traffic jam right behind Zarley and Elder.

"I've been having a pretty rough year so far and this is encouraging to play a good round," said Zarley, who won the Kaiser International—his only tour victory—and $65,000 in 1968.

Jack Nicklaus, a pre-tourney favorite, shot a 74 and will have to hustle today to make the 36-hole cut. The Golden Bear's round included a triple bogey 7.

Majestic Prince Derby Pick

By BOB COOPER
Associated Press Sports Writer

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Four thoroughbred champions and four pretenders to glory got their final grooming today for the 95th running of the Kentucky Derby.

The field of eight, one of them a potential scratch, is the smallest in 21 years and, most fans believe, the strongest in a far longer time.

Majestic Prince, the unbeaten and untried king of the West Coast, has been tabbed as the probable betting favorite in the 1¼-mile Run for the Roses that goes to the post at 5:30 p.m. EDT, Saturday.

Flying the colors of Canadian oil millionaire Frank McMahon, the $250,000 yearling purchase has mowed down 47 opponents in seven races, all of them except his first and last at Santa Anite.

Majestic Prince would be the odds-on choice to cop the $25,000-added Derby except for three things. Their names are Top Knight, Dike and Arts and Letters.

Top Knight has finished first in three of four races this year, although he was disqualified to third in the Bahamas stakes. His only drawback is a five-week layoff since his Florida Derby victory.

"If you've only got one good suit, you don't wear it very often," trainer Ray Metcalf said in explaining the sparse racing schedule of the chestnut colt he trains for the Steven B. Wilson estate.

"Top Knight is my only good suit," he chuckled.

Claiborne Farm's Dike, a late-charging son of French Derby champion Herbager, ran poorly in Florida when he was asked for too much too soon, but prompted new hope in victories in New York's Gotham and Wood Memorial.

Arts and Letters, the Virginia-bred property Paul Mellon's Rokeby Stable, was a bridesmaid in the Flamingo, Fountain of Youth and Florida Derby, but took center stage with a 15-length victory in the Blue Grass Stakes last week at Keeneland.

So evenly matched are the Big Four that track handicapper John Battaglia made Majestic Prince the probable 6-5 betting favorite, then turned around and picked Dike as the program choice.

Challenging the four before an estimated crowd of 100,000 are Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Harris, Rae Jet, Leo Miller's Ocean Roar, Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Roberts' Traffic Mark and the Kanowsky syndicate's Fleet Allied.

Rae Jet also was entered in a pair of lesser races Saturday, giving his owners chance to change their minds and save the $1,000 due Saturday for each Derby starter.

Arkansas Derby winner Traffic Mark drew the No. 2 post with Arts and Letters, with jockey Braulio Baeza substituting for the injured Bill Shoemaker, in No. 3.

Duff Scores Twice

Canadiens Blank Blues, Take 3-0 Series Lead

By CHARLIE BAROUH
Associated Press Sports Writer

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The Montreal Canadiens didn't waste any time Thursday night in moving closer to their 14th Stanley Cup by whipping the St. Louis Blues 4-0.

The victory gave Montreal a 3-0 lead in the National Hockey League's best-of-7 series.

Dick Duff is one of the most impatient of the Canadiens. He doesn't see patience as a virtue on the ice.

"Especially when you're a couple of games up, it's easy to relax and then twice as hard to get back in stride," Duff said after scoring two goals and adding an assist against the outclassed Blues.

"We knew we'd have to start strong tonight and then when they had that goal by Frank St. Marseille called back in the first period, I think it took some of the steam out of them," he added.

St. Marseille's goal was disallowed because referee John Asheley said he kicked it in past Montreal goalie Rogatien Vachon. Vachon went on to forge the first playoff shutout of his career.

But the loss of the goal wasn't what bothered St. Louis Coach Scotty Bowman most. The goal would have helped, Bowman agreed, but not enough considering the way the Blues played.

"I think they (the Canadiens) are having too easy a time. Our passing is real bad. We passed better than that all year," Bowman complained.

"Anytime we carried puck we were a lot better. Everything was a split second off, the passing, the shooting. I don't know why."

Serve Savard of Montreal blasted a low line drive past the Blues' goalie, Jacques Plante, midway through the first period. Duff set him up on that one.

Then after Jacques Lemaire made it 2-0 early in the second period, Duff added a goal in each of the final two periods.

Montreal's big Jean Beliveau summed it up for the Canadiens:

"We didn't give them much chance tonight. We were skating on top of them and didn't let them get organized."

Scorecard Mix-Up Costs Bears Match

A scorecard signed with the wrong score cost Oak Glen a golf match yesterday.

John Carson shot a 42, but recorded a 43 and signed the card. This threw the Golden Bears into a 176-176 tie with Wellsburg and the Orange Knights won a playoff 19-20 on the first hole to take the match.

Bob Glass led Oak Glen with a 41. Jim Szymanek had a 45, Mike Abrams a 47 and Jerry Martin a 55. George Lachmanek had a 41, Randy Fryer and Larry Thompson 45s and Marty Cheeks and Bruce Miller 46s for Wellsburg. The low four in each team played the first extra hole, a par 4 at Highland Springs.

Oak Glen is 2-5 on the year.

Blue Dons Nip Oak Glen 5-4 In Eighth

Weirton Madonna rallied for three runs in the last of the sixth to tie the game and then scored in the eighth to hand Oak Glen a 5-4 setback at Weirton yesterday.

The loss was the fifth straight after an opening win for the Golden Bears. Craig Whittington took the loss and George Vargo was the winner.

Gill homered in the first for the winners and Greco added a triple, but didn't score. Oak Glen took the lead in the second when Frank Amedeo walked, Whittington was safe on an error, Matt Proctor doubled home Amedeo and Whittington scored on a passed ball. In the third Vic Reed singled, stole second, was sacrified to third and scored on a hit by Amedeo. Oak Glen completed its soring in the sixth when Whittington, who had two hits, singled and forced by Al Still, who sored on an error. Gary Masters had a triple for the Golden Bears, but it was wasted.

In the last of the eighth Vargo tripled and Avoli singled him home with the winning run.

Zarley, Elder Share Lead At N. Orleans

By BEN THOMAS
Associated Press Sports Write

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Weightlifting may be just dandy for Gary Player but Kermit Zarley isn't so sure if it's "my thing."

Zarley, coming out of a four-month long slump he thinks may have been caused by a strenuous weight-lifting program he went through during the winter, fired a six-under par 66 Thursday. He shared the first-round lead in the $100,000 Greater New Orleans Open Golf Tournament with Lee Elder.

It was a shaky lead, however, with a traffic jam right behind Zarley and Elder.

"I've been having a pretty rough year so far and this is encouraging to play a good round," said Zarley, who won the Kaiser International—his only tour victory—and $65,000 in 1968.

Jack Nicklaus, a pre-tourney favorite, shot a 74 and will have to hustle today to make the 36-hole cut. The Golden Bear's round included a triple bogey 7.

By Cecil Smith

The Midnight Ride Of Joey Bishop

"The first year it got so I hated to come to work," said Joey Bishop.

"But when we started the second year, I began to enjoy it. Now I look forward to it every night."

Cecil Smith

The darkly tanned, acerbic comic is beginning the third year of his midnight ride as ABC's answer to NBC's Johnny Carson.

Next season, it becomes a three-horse race as CBS brings Merv Griffin in with his version of late-night television.

"I THINK I'll show old movies on my program," said Joey. "Where else will people be able to see them?"

We're sitting in the Hollywood studio theater on Vine st where Joey does his nightly romp. Onstage, Ricardo Montalban runs through a song with Johnny Mann's Orchestra.

"There are two ways you can go with these shows," said Joey. "You can be a host or an emcee. I began to enjoy the show when I found out what I was — an emcee."

The difference? "A host thinks of his guests; an emcee thinks of the audience."

JOEY'S young producer, Jerry Frank, in sweat shirt and sneakers, came down the aisle with a list of guests for the night, asking Joey what order he wanted to bring them on.

"Let's start with Gail Martin and her songs," said Joey, "and then do George Burns. George wants to leave early."

"We could start with Burns," suggested Jerry.

"No, I'd rather have a pretty girl up front," said Joey. "Anyway, Dino's going to call."

These "hot-line" calls have become an integral part of the show. Joey squabbles with Dean Martin over the phone, saying the moment he can find a spot for Dean he'll have him on. Later on this edition, Ingrid Bergman called from her movie location in Tennessee.

"OUTSIDE the first couple of guests," said Joey, "we wing the order of appearance. That's the work of the emcee. If the show gets somber, you bring a comic on to lift it. You don't want two funny spots in a row, so you put a singer between them.

"Tonight, we've got Bill Russell and John Havlicek (of the Boston Celtics), so I've got Phil Foster on because he loves sports and knows more about sports than any man in show business."

The worst guests? Joey answers instantly: "The Betty Boops. Young actresses who've got a third-rate spot in a series and try to project their series image on my show, girlish innocence, wide-eyed virginity, instead of being themselves."

DURING the last hour before the show, Joey holds court in his dressing room and various guests come in. It's an easy, social hour, yet Bishop is storing material to use in conversations with them on the show.

By Cecil Smith

The Midnight Ride Of Joey Bishop

"The first year it got so I hated to come to work," said Joey Bishop.

"But when we started the second year, I began to enjoy it. Now I look forward to it every night."

Cecil Smith

The darkly tanned, acerbic comic is beginning the third year of his midnight ride as ABC's answer to NBC's Johnny Carson.

Next season, it becomes a three-horse race as CBS brings Merv Griffin in with his version of late-night television.

"I THINK I'll show old movies on my program," said Joey. "Where else will people be able to see them?"

We're sitting in the Hollywood studio theater on Vine st where Joey does his nightly romp. Onstage, Ricardo Montalban runs through a song with Johnny Mann's Orchestra.

"There are two ways you can go with these shows," said Joey. "You can be a host or an emcee. I began to enjoy the show when I found out what I was — an emcee."

The difference? "A host thinks of his guests; an emcee thinks of the audience."

JOEY'S young producer, Jerry Frank, in sweat shirt and sneakers, came down the aisle with a list of guests for the night, asking Joey what order he wanted to bring them on.

"Let's start with Gail Martin and her songs," said Joey, "and then do George Burns. George wants to leave early."

"We could start with Burns," suggested Jerry.

"No, I'd rather have a pretty girl up front," said Joey. "Anyway, Dino's going to call."

These "hot-liner" calls have become an integral part of the show. Joey squabbles with Dean Martin over the phone, saying the moment he can find a spot for Dean he"ll have him on. Later on this edition, Ingrid Bergman called from her movie location in Tennessee.

"OUTSIDE the first couple of guests," said Joey, "we wing the order of appearance. That's the work of the emcee. If the show gets somber, you bring a comic on to lift it. You don't want two funny spots in a row, so you put a singer between them.

"Tonight, we've got Bill Russell and John Havlicek (of the Boston Celtics), so I've got Phil Foster on because he loves sports and knows more about sports than any man in show business."

The worst guests? Joey answers instantly: "The Betty Boops. Young actresses who've got a third-rate spot in a series and try to project their series image on my show, girlish innocence, wide-eyed virginity, instead of being themselves."

DURING the last hour before the show, Joey holds court in his dressing room and various guests come in. It's an easy, social hour, yet Bishop is storing material to use in conversations with them on the show.

In memory of my son and our brother, Raymond E. Wedger, who passed away one year ago today, May 2. Gone is the face we loved so dear, Silent is the voice we loved to hear, Too far away for sight or speech, But not too far for thought to reach, Sweet to remember him who once was here, And who, though absent is just as dear.

In memory of my son and our brother, Raymond E. Wedger, who passed away one year ago today, May 2. Gone is the face we loved so dear, Silent is the voice we loved to hear, Too far away for sight or speech, But not too far for thought to reach, Sweet to remember him who once was here, And who, though absent is just as dear.

Junior Editors Quiz on RIVERS

QUESTION: Why do rivers never stop running?

* * *

ANSWER: It's true that most rivers keep running, but there are rivers in dry areas which may dwindle and disappear at certain times in the year. Let's ask ourselves the question: where is a river's water coming from and where is it going to? River water begins to flow down from some high source; from a spring or pond in the mountains, perhaps a glacier that is melting. As it runs, other streams join the first one, until the volume of water has become a river. Water runs downhill because it is heavy and the force of gravity is pulling it down. It will run wherever it finds a place below its own level to spill into. How far down does the river go? It keeps going all the way until it reaches the old ocean at the bottom. In all cases, water lies still only in the lowest places to which it can flow. This is what is meant by water seeking its own level. People have always felt that rivers are particularly interesting and beautiful. There is serenity in a river, for the water usually runs slowly. There is a sense of history, too, for explorers moved up the rivers first, and civilization first came into being along the river banks.

Rhodes Writes Book On His Pet Project

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — Gov. James A. Rhodes of Ohio disclosed Thursday he has written a book on his favorite subject, vocational education.

Rhodes, here for the Republican Governors' Conference, said the book, "Alternative to a Decadent Society," will be published May 9.

Strangulation Ruled In Death Of Toledo Girl

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — A 4-year-old girl reported missing at dusk Thursday was found three hours later dead in a neighborhood garage with a red dress wound around her neck.

The coroner's office said Tracy Simpson had been strangled but apparently had not been sexually molested. Police said the dress wrapped around her neck and stuffed in her mouth was not her own.

A man walking his dog found the child's fully clothed body slumped over a broken tricycle in a garage several doors away from her home in a south side middleclass neighborhood.

The child's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Simpson, had reported her missing at 7:10 p. m. and local television stations broadcast several appeals during the evening in an attempt to determine her whereabouts.

The coroner's office planned an autopsy today.

Application Studied

SALINEVILLE — The Ohio Department of Liquor Control is processing the application of Paul and Ethel Hood of Hood's Grocery for C-1 and C-2 permits. The C-1 permit is for 3.2 beer for carry-out and C-2 for high-powered beer and wine for carry-out.

Early California prospectors are responsible for the expression, "pan out." when they tried their hands at panning for gold without success, they would say that their effort "didn't pan out."
